Gasoline Price In Vancouver Stabilized At Thirty Cents

Service Stations In Terminal City Agree On Gas Price Level

Thirty Cents Will Continue To Be Charge, Majority of Dealers Decide; Say They Have Borne Reduction of Two Cents Made Couple of Weeks Ago.

Canadian Press
Vancouver, Nov. 20.—Gasoline will continue to be sold at 30 cents a gallon by the majority of the service stations in Vancouver.
At a meeting of the automotive section of the Retail Merchants' Association yesterday evening the situation was thoroughly canvassed by the members, when it was stated the retail dealers were bearing the reduction from 32 to 30 cents, which went into effect a couple of weeks ago, out of their own pockets, and were now making a profit of only 4 cents a gallon on gasoline, according to George R. Matthews, secretary.
The 30 cents includes the 5-cent government tax.

READING IS FOR NEW INDIA AS DOMINION

Ex-Viceroy Tells Conference British Liberals Support Proposal For Constitution

Canadian Press
London, Nov. 20.—Lord Reading, former Viceroy of India, addressing the Indian Round-Table Conference here today, declared the Liberal Party in the British Parliament accepted the principle of Dominion status for India. This was a vague term that had never been defined, but which to the layman meant a status equal to that of the other Dominions in the Empire.
The Liberals accepted that goal and its implications, declared Lord Reading. He explained the problem of the Indian army and India's foreign affairs must be settled, and that proposals must be referred to the British Parliament for action.
NABAB SPEAKS
The Nawab of Bhopal, most powerful Muslim Prince in India, declared that if India was given Dominion status today, in the course of a few months the cry of independence would die of itself.
LABOR LEADER SPEAKS
N. M. Joshi, general secretary of the Trades Union Congress for India, put the workers' case before the conference. Indian workers, he said, would like the new constitution to contain, first, a declaration of the fundamental rights of the workers. Secondly, it must be founded on universal adult suffrage.
The Indian workers insisted, Joshi added, that labor legislation should always remain a central or federal subject.

DO-X PERFORMS POORLY ON FLIGHT WHICH ENDS IN SPAIN

Santander, Spain, Nov. 20.—The great German flying boat DO-X, which left the Bordeaux region of France for Corunna, Spain, and which unexpectedly landed here at 1.45 p.m. today, may not take off again until Friday. It was announced when weather conditions became decidedly unfavorable. The ship lies at anchor three miles off the mole.
Santander is about half way between Bordeaux and Corunna.
START OF FLIGHT
La Roque de Thau, France, Nov. 20.—Attaining altitude with difficulty, the DO-X "largest plane in the world" left this little village, twenty-five miles from Bordeaux, at 10.15 a.m. from where a transatlantic flight to New York was planned.
The aircraft was en route to the Azores and Bermuda. Now, with Newest challenger for the women's trans-United States flight record is Mrs. Martha C. Bevin, above, wife of O. Key Bevin, well known aviator. She plans to take off from New York soon on a three-stop flight to Los Angeles in a 160-mile-an-hour plane. She expects to make stops at Indianapolis, Ind., Wichita, Kans., and Albuquerque, N.M. The present record is held by Mrs. Kath. Miller, Australian aviator.

LOGAN & BRYAN TO OPEN OWN BRANCH HERE

Stock Brokerage Situation Cleared Here By Entry of Big New York House

The local New York stock brokerage situation cleared to-day when J. F. McBurney, partner in Logan and Bryan, announced over the long-distance telephone from Seattle that Logan and Bryan would open their own office in Victoria. This will place Victoria on the same basis as Vancouver, Tacoma, Portland and San Francisco, where Logan and Bryan open their own offices direct from New York.
Mr. McBurney will arrive in Victoria to-morrow to arrange for the immediate opening of the branch here, he announced to H. A. Humber, who has been manager of the stock department of Branson, Brown and Company, Ltd., who closed their doors as stock brokers on Tuesday morning.
While arrangements are being made for the location of the Logan and Bryan offices here and the opening of the branch, the opening of the branch is expected to-morrow.

COASTGUARDS HAVE HARD BATTLE IN COLD WEATHER OFF MASSACHUSETTS

Situate, Mass., Nov. 20.—Beating their way through a heavy sea in the face of a penetrating wind, a crew of coastguardsmen from the Situate station rescued Captain Philippe Stragino and his crew of five from the seventy-foot motor drifter Gyda early today. The Gyda went ashore on Callanmore's ledge, two miles off Minot, during a fog and was in danger of breaking up. Captain Stragino was suffering severely from exposure. He had been thrown from the deck of the drifter by a heavy wave and washed aboard again. Salvatore Cullacive, a member of the Gyda's crew, sprained his left ankle when he fell twenty feet from the mast of the drifter to the deck.
WHISTLE CALLED AID
John F. Barry, surman at the Situate station, patrolled the beach, heard the scream of the Gyda's whistle, calling for aid.
The coastguardsmen dipped their oars, once clear of the surf, and began their two-mile pull for the Gyda. Sheets of spray so numbed them as they pulled through and over the combers back to the station with the drifter. The Gyda's crew and the coastguardsmen were all safely ashore and the drifter was towed to the oars.

FOUR BANKS IN CAROLINA CLOSE

Raleigh, N.C., Nov. 20.—Four banks in western North Carolina, including the Central Bank and Trust Company, Asheville, with deposits of $18,000,000, closed to-day, John Mitchell, state bank examiner, announced here.

POLICE FIGHT RIOTING GANGS IN BARCELONA

Barcelona, Spain, Nov. 20.—Although this city's general strike had been officially ended, extremists harried workers returning to their posts to-day.
In one suburb a crowd attacked a street car filled with returning workers. The police charged to drive off the assailants and fired their pistols at the mob, which dispersed with no casualties.
Labor leaders believed several days might be necessary to restore anything like normal conditions after the four days of fighting and industrial stoppage which the general strike occasioned.

CATTLE AND SHEEP MEN AID PROVINCE IN NEW LAND LAW

Important Revision of Land and Grazing Acts Being Conducted by Joint Committee; P. Z. Caverhill, Chief Forester, Presides Over Discussions; Cattlemen and Sheepmen Study Problems Offered by Departmental Officials.

New regulations governing grazing on the public lands of British Columbia with amendments to the Grazing Act and changes in the Land Act, which are deemed necessary, are under consideration at the Parliament Buildings. Representatives of the cattle and sheep industries, in co-operation with experts of the Provincial Lands Department, yesterday opened scrutiny of existing legislation and commenced preparation of a comprehensive series of amendments. The committee is expected to conclude its sessions this evening.
The cattle industry is represented by Frank Ward, Douglas Lake, president of the British Columbia Beef Cattle Growers' Association; R. H. Helmer of Henry by Elmer, cattle raiser, representing the British Columbia Cattle Company Limited; A. Wallace Moran of the Gang Ranch, and J. Boyd, Clinton. The sheep interests are represented by Elmer, cattle raiser, and William Harrison, Pritchard, both near Kamloops. The Government is represented by T. P. Mackenzie, Grazing Commissioner, and P. Z. Caverhill, Chief Forester, who is chairman.
The permit system, which now controls use of the public range and the forest lands of the province, is to be strengthened in many particulars, to give better supervision and minimize further the over-grazing which ten years ago led to the enactment of the Grazing Act.
The Land Act is being studied with a view to improvement in its leasing provisions. One objective will be prevention of the exclusive domination of water supply by single landowners. It has been found that in many areas cattle concerns have been able to retain exclusive use of public grazing by reason of holding exclusive right to all the water holes of the district.
The committee will make a report on these matters direct to the Minister of Lands.

TEN HERE SEEK COUNCIL SEATS

Alderman James Adam Will Stand Again; Second Woman Candidate

With two more candidates announced for the aldermanic contest and the work of the Council of the City of Victoria, the City Council will seek re-election at the polls in December. Alderman James Adam this morning said he would stand for a second year. The other candidates are: Mrs. Mary T. Roberts, 321 Michigan Street, and E. S. Woodward, who had previously announced their intentions to stand.
A second woman candidate was announced this morning when Mrs. Mary T. Roberts, 321 Michigan Street, said she would probably stand for a second year. Mrs. Alice McGee is the second woman candidate.

BENNETT TO RETURN SOON TO OTTAWA

Expected Back in Capital From Europe About December 7

By Thos. Champion, Canadian Press Staff Writer
London, Nov. 20.—Premier R. B. Bennett, returning to London from Edinburgh to-day, told the Canadian Press he would return to Canada just as soon as he could dispose of official business in France and Great Britain. He will leave for Paris at the end of this week, and it is expected he will be returning to Canada about the end of next week.
The Canadian Premier declined to comment on the wheat situation in Canada. Anything he might say, he pointed out, might affect the interests of those most vitally concerned, and so he must refrain from discussion at the moment.
Mr. Bennett also said he had heard nothing of the rumor that Premier Brownlee of Alberta would resign his position to enter the Federal Cabinet (Premier Brownlee himself denied that rumor yesterday).

NO FREE PORT AT CHURCHILL IS PLANNED

Bennett Government Will Not Accept Prairie Suggestion For Imports From Britain

Ottawa, Nov. 20.—It may be taken for granted the Bennett Government is not contemplating a tariff schedule on goods coming into Canada at Churchill, Hudson Bay, that would be different from the tariff on goods coming in at any other Canadian port. This was the opinion expressed in Government circles here to-day in reference to the proposal of Hon. R. A. Hoey, acting Premier of Manitoba, that Churchill, the prairie's new seaport, be made a free port of entry for goods coming into Canada from Great Britain.
A number of ports in Europe, according to Mr. Hoey, might be shipped into storage in such ports without any customs restrictions, and then sold. However, such imports later have to meet the tariffs of the countries to which they are ultimately consigned.
Mr. Hoey's suggestion was made in a letter to the Minister of Finance of the United Farmers of Manitoba at Portage la Prairie.

QUEBEC LOSES WELL KNOWN PUBLIC MAN

Hon. J. L. Perron Dies in Montreal; Member of Legislative Bodies For Twenty Years
Became Minister of Agriculture After Serving as Minister of Highways

Canadian Press
Montreal, Nov. 20.—Hon. J. L. Perron, K.C., Minister of Agriculture, one of the outstanding figures in the political life of the Province of Quebec and a noted lawyer of Montreal, died here to-day, aged fifty-seven, after an illness of several months.
Last year Mr. Perron left the comparative quiet of the Legislative Council of the province for the hurly-burly of an election fight, was victorious in a by-election in Montcalm County and took his seat in the Legislative Assembly as Minister of Agriculture. His health gradually had failed ever since.
He had played a part in ruling the province for twenty years, having been first elected to the Assembly in 1910 as member for Gaspé. In 1916 he was appointed to the upper house, and joined the Cabinet in 1920 without portfolio. In 1921 he was appointed Minister of Highways, relinquishing that position last year to take charge of Agricultural Affairs.
Mr. Perron's death was the second in the provincial cabinet this year, the resignation of Hon. A. R. McMaster, Provincial Treasurer, having been regretfully accepted by Premier Taschereau some time ago due to Mr. McMaster's persistent ill-health.

COAL IS URGED AS FUEL FOR BIG NEW HOTEL

B.C. Mineralogist Galloway Makes Suggestion For C.N.R. Building in Vancouver

Vancouver, Nov. 20.—"It is almost a disgrace that the Canadian National system—our own railway system—should use oil instead of coal in its new hotel in Vancouver," J. D. Galloway, Provincial Mineralogist, said in an address to-day at the annual meeting of the British Columbia division of the Canadian Institute of Mining and Metallurgy and the Mining Association of British Columbia. "I hope every one of you will use all the influence you have in every way you may to bring about a change in this decision," he said.
Mr. Galloway dealt with the use of coal fuel both industrially and domestically, and as an example of what could be done with coal fuel he quoted the new power plant of the Empress Hotel at Victoria.
"This is a one hundred per cent coal-fueled plant, using underfeed stokers and giving every satisfaction," Mr. Galloway said. "I have noticed there is less smoke from the stack of the Empress Hotel than there is from oil-burning boats in the harbor."

MINISTER OF FISHERIES IS DUE IN CITY

Hon. E. N. Rhodes Will Arrive Here To-morrow to Take Up Fishery Questions
Minister of Interior and Mines Are Expected

Of all the Federal ministers who have visited Victoria during the last few weeks, Hon. E. N. Rhodes, Minister of Fisheries, is the most outstanding. Mr. Rhodes, who has been in Vancouver since the beginning of the week getting posted on the fishery industry of the coast, is due to reach Victoria to-morrow with W. A. Found, deputy minister of fisheries.
While here the minister will discuss fishery matters with Premier Tolmie, Hon. S. L. Howe, Provincial Secretary and Commissioner of Fisheries, and with J. P. Babcock, Assistant Commissioner of Fisheries.
REOPEN SEALING ISSUE
Premier Tolmie will take up with Mr. Rhodes the old question of compensation to operators of sealing vessels, a live issue since the framing of the Pelagic Sealing Treaty by Great Britain, the United States, Japan and Russia.
The visit made by Mr. Rhodes to the coast at the present time is but a brief one. He is acquainting himself with fishing legislation before the next session of Parliament. He proposes to return here in the near future when he will go into every phase of the fishing industry.
Three ministers of the Bennett Cabinet have preceded the Minister of Fisheries to the coast, all within a comparatively short space of time. The first member of the new Conservative ministry to come here was Hon. D. M. Sutherland, Minister of National Defence.
The case Hon. E. B. Ryckman, Minister of National Revenue, and more recently, Hon. Alfred Durnaleau, Minister of Marine.
Hon. Thomas G. Murphy, Minister of the Interior and Superintendent-General of Indian Affairs, and Hon. A. Gordon Minister of Immigration are now on the coast and will visit Victoria within the next few days.

RECOMMENDED BRITAIN ABOLISH DEATH PENALTY

London, Nov. 20.—The London Daily Herald, Labor paper, says the select committee of Parliament on capital punishment will recommend abolition of the death penalty for an experimental period of five years. Its report is expected around Christmas time. Meanwhile the Home Secretary will be empowered through a Parliamentary resolution to exercise his prerogative of mercy until legislation sanctioning the experiment has been passed, according to The Herald.
The newspaper asserts other recommendations will be that the penalty will continue to apply to women on the same terms as men, and that nobody under twenty-one may be sentenced to death.

B.C. SALMON PACK RECORD

Vancouver, Nov. 20.—British Columbia's salmon pack reached a new high record of 2,163,712 cases last Saturday, according to figures issued to-day by Major J. A. Motherwell, chief supervisor of fisheries.
That figure was nearly 100,000 cases more than the 1928 record of 2,065,461 cases.
The salmon pack record was set by the fleet of boats from the Fraser River, which were loaded with salmon for export to Japan and other foreign markets.

LEVINE ORDERED TO STAND TRIAL IN VIENNA COURT

Vienna, Austria, Nov. 20.—Charles A. Levine, United States aviation enthusiast and partner in Clarence Chamberlain's famous flight from New York to Germany, was ordered to stand trial on charges of intent to counterfeit foreign coins.
Dr. Moysich, who had gained a reputation for a strict exacting of the law, was appointed judge for the trial of Levine.
Dr. Preminger, Levine's attorney, has made a formal protest against his client's imprisonment to the Vienna chamber of advocates of the superior court and its reply is expected within a few days.
The authorities are expected to proceed with the trial of Levine's financial means.

Many Growers Oppose Control Under B. C. Marketing Act

Kamloops, B.C., Nov. 20.—A mass meeting of fruit and vegetable growers and shippers, many of them belonging to the District Commodity Association and of the main line district, invaded the extraordinary general meeting of the Associated Boards of Trade of Cariboo yesterday afternoon in the City Hall here, with the following resolution: "Resolved that the main line district, from Chase to Lytton, including the North Thompson Valley and south to Merritt, be exempted from the operations of the B.C. Produce Marketing Act or any other form of outside control."
After a unanimous expression of opinion, the resolution was carried by a large majority.

WINDSTORMS KILL TWENTY IN THE U.S.

KANSAS CITY, Nov. 20.—Tornadoes which swept through Oklahoma, Arkansas and Kansas communities yesterday exacted a toll of twenty lives, injured scores, left many homeless and did property damage estimated at nearly $1,000,000.

At least fifteen persons were killed and fifty-seven injured seriously by the tornado which demolished more than 100 houses at Bethany, a Nazarene settlement seven miles west of Oklahoma City.

Four were killed at the Camel Creek School, about four miles south of Bethany, where the tornado first struck. The teacher and ten pupils were injured and the schoolhouse demolished.

D. D. Powell, city recorder of Oklahoma, Ark., was killed, and his wife seriously injured in a tornado which razed half the business buildings in that town of nearly 1,000 inhabitants.

Sixteen children and a teacher were injured by a tornado which demolished a rural school building near Victoria, Kas. Twenty buildings were demolished and a man seriously injured at Neal, Kas.

LT. GOVERNORS ARE NAMED FOR TWO PROVINCES

Frank Stanfield For Nova Scotia; Charles Dalton For Prince Edward Island

Canadian Press
Halifax, Nov. 20.—A Nova Scotia manufacturer who built his business from small beginnings and founder of the fox breeding industry in Prince Edward Island will be Lieutenant-Governors of their native provinces.

Frank Stanfield of Truro will take up his official residence at Government House here December 2, while the successor to Hon. Frank R. Hertz at Charlottetown is Charles Dalton of Tignish.

News of the appointments at Ottawa yesterday was received here. While Mr. Stanfield was busy engaged in the affairs of his growing woolen and silk business at Truro years ago, Mr. Dalton was experimenting with the breeding of black foxes. In early manhood he was a trapper, and it was then he visualized the possibility of fur-growing in captivity.

Less than twenty years ago the world heard of the new industry. Within a few years he was sprang up all over the island, and in other parts of Canada and the United States.

Mr. Dalton built and presented to the province the Dalton Tuberculosis Sanatorium and Dalton Hall at St. Dunstan's University. He was returned to the provincial legislature in 1912, and was re-elected without opposition in the 1916 election. He was born at Nail Pond, P.E.I., June 9, 1850.

HIS BROTHER IS SENATOR
It had been generally recognized for some time that Frank Stanfield was to be the next occupant of Nova Scotia's Government House. Since he and his brother, now Senator John Stanfield, entered their father's woolen business in Truro some thirty-five years ago the plant has doubled its output many times. Accepting the responsibilities of public life, Frank Stanfield was first elected to the provincial legislature in 1911, and re-elected in 1916, 1925 and 1928.

Ben Bryan, who is now head of the international stock brokerage partnership of Logan and Bryan, is well known personally in Victoria. He spends a couple of weeks here and up the island every year fishing. He started his business career when he came to Canada from Scotland as a boy and got a job on the staff of the Bank of Montreal in Montreal. Later, he decided to step out for himself and went to Chicago where the beginnings were laid for the brokerage partnership which now extends from coast to coast across Canada and the United States.

Logan and Bryan have been operating a direct branch in Vancouver for the last four years under the management of John G. Keenan.

Logan and Bryan adhered to the policy of doing only a commission business, only buying and selling stocks and securities on its own account for "investment" or "speculation."

Bryan when he was in Victoria a few months ago, warned that the practice of some Canadian brokers in exceeding the strict commission business and carrying quantities of all kinds of stocks or securities on its own account for "investment" or "speculation."

WOMAN SHOT IN VANCOUVER LOSES HER LIFE

Japanese, Critically Wounded, Is Under Police Guard in Hospital

Canadian Press
Vancouver, Nov. 20.—Shot three times through the body, Mrs. Nellie Criddle, twenty-one-year-old white woman, in the Belleville Rooms on East Hastings Street here yesterday evening.

A Japanese, whose name police believe to be T. Kawamura, Main Street, was found unconscious in Mrs. Criddle's room with bullet wounds in his throat and chest. He is in the General Hospital under police guard to-day.

Although it was first believed Kawamura would die, physicians to-day reported he had a chance of recovery. Because of the wound in his throat, it was almost impossible for police to question him.

FIVE SHOTS HEARD
According to accounts given by witnesses, Mrs. Criddle entered her room at 7:35 p.m. Ten minutes later five shots were heard. The woman is said to have staggered from her room, run down the hall and collapsed in a suite occupied by George Anderson. She was dead when physicians arrived.

Police entered the room occupied by Mrs. Criddle and found Kawamura stretched on his back on the floor. Beside him detectives said, was a .45-calibre revolver with five shots discharged.

Police learned Mrs. Criddle was a native of St. Julian, Sask. She resided in Edmonton nine years and two years ago married Thomas Criddle, who was then employed by a coal company in the Alberta city. She and her husband came to Vancouver after their marriage, but detectives state they are unable to locate Criddle. Her maiden name was Nellie Tachuk and she is believed to have been of Russian or Polish nationality. Her father, Nick Tachuk, and sister, Mary, reside in Edmonton.

B.C. DAY AT FARM FAIR AT TORONTO

Toronto, Nov. 20.—Featuring the products of the province to which it is dedicated, British Columbia was observed to-day at the Royal Winter Fair here. Special attention was mentioned in the programme to the great display of apples in the Pacific province's booth.

Aside from the British Columbia feature, to-day's programme consisted mainly of cattle judging and the awarding of prizes in the farm products sections.

Concert Given
At Cowichan By
Duncan Players

Special to The Times
Duncan, Nov. 20.—Deane-Freeman, of Cobble Hill, arranged a most enjoyable concert, which was given in the C.A.A.C. Hall, Cowichan, on Tuesday evening. The following artists took part: Mrs. Deane-Freeman, Mrs. F. X. Russell, Mrs. Aldorf, Miss Goldsmith and John Dick, vocal solos; Mr. Grainger, musical monologues; Miss Carr-Hilton, solo dance; and Mrs. Curwen's folk dancers. Mrs. Grainger and Mrs. M. Wade acted as accompanists. A. Cheesie acted as chairman, and Joseph Reade proposed a hearty vote of thanks to Mrs. Deane-Freeman and the artists. After supper dancing was indulged in to music supplied by B. Ryall, piano, and G. Barry, saxophone. Cards were provided for the non-dancers.

BUDGET PLAN TO LIMIT SIZE OF THE NAVIES

At Geneva Preparatory Disarmament Commission Gives Approval to Proposal

Neve, Switzerland, Nov. 20.—Over the opposition of the French, United States and Japanese delegates, the Preparatory Disarmament Commission to-day approved employment of the budgetary method for limiting naval armaments.

This principle had previously been adopted for land and war materials, although Hugh S. Gibson, United States delegate, made clear his government could not accept the system for itself. Viscount Cecil of Great Britain, who championed the action, recognized the impossibility of concluding a general convention providing budgetary limitation for fleets unless some way of accommodating the United States and Japanese position could be found.

He declared this scheme for fixing a maximum figure for naval expenditures was adopted by the British as purely supplementary to the direct method embodied in the Washington and London treaties.

The vote for the budget limit for navies was:

For—Great Britain, Canada, Russia, Ireland, Norway, Persia, Finland, Italy, Roumania and Holland.

Against—United States, France and Japan.

TONNAGE TRANSFERS
The commission also concluded adoption of the naval limitation draft which transfers the principles of the Washington and London treaties to a general convention for all nations. The articles approved to-day concern definitions, exemptions and rules for transfers of tonnage.

The figures in the two existing treaties were placed in the general draft "as illustrations" of what had been done in this direction "already and not to bind the general conference."

The commission moved rapidly to-day under a fire of amendments from Maxim Litvinoff, Russian delegate, all aiming at radical reductions. The commission, however, declined to insert any figures except those already in force among the great naval powers.

When the general question of budgetary limitation of all armaments came up, the British submitted a proposal that "each of the high contracting parties agree its total annual expenditure on land, sea and air forces in any budgetary year shall not exceed these figures eleven times the already agreed on by the general conference."

Nationalization Of C.P.R. to Be Debated By M.P.'s

Ottawa, Nov. 20.—The advisability of nationalizing the Canadian Pacific Railway will likely be discussed when the House of Commons next convenes. A resolution placed on the order paper of the Commons at this early date by Robert Gardiner, House Leader of the United Farmers of Alberta group, reads:

"That it is the opinion of this House that the Government take into consideration the advisability of nationalizing the Canadian Pacific Railway."

Privy Council Is to Rule On Aviation In Canada

Ottawa Asks Final Decision on Supreme Court's Decision Dominion and Provinces at Present Divide Authority

Canadian Press
Ottawa, Nov. 20.—An appeal to the Judicial Committee of the Privy Council in London from the decision of the Supreme Court of Canada in connection with the reference respecting jurisdiction over aviation as between the Dominion and provinces is at present in course of preparation by Federal Government law officers, and the prospects are that a hearing will be given in London some time next summer.

The appeal arises out of the Supreme Court's opinion, published some weeks ago, the effect of which is interpreted to be that the Dominion may control such aviation matters as are involved in international affairs and such serial activities as the Dominion itself engages in, but that the provinces have definite jurisdiction to control and legislate on aviation within their own territories.

Analysis of the Supreme Court's decision indicates that in the judges' opinion Federal legislation heretofore affecting serial activities in Canada, in so far as this legislation seeks to lay down regulations applicable to the provinces, severally and collectively, is invalid. The effect of this would be to place on each individual province responsibility for controlling and legislating on all aerial traffic matters within its borders.

DIFFICULTIES FORESEEN

How such a condition might operate was pointed out by the representative of an eastern airways company to-day. It would mean, he said, that his company would be obliged to register its aircraft in each of the nine provinces of Canada if operations throughout the Dominion were carried on. At the same time each pilot and other registered mechanic would have to be registered nine times. The confusion a situation of that character would create would practically compel aircraft companies to discontinue operations, he said.

Three alternatives are presented. (1) The Privy Council may interpret the law to mean the Dominion possesses in fact the authority it now exercises, a decision which would upset the decision of the Supreme Court. (2) The provinces may pass legislation surrendering their jurisdiction over aviation to the Dominion, something which would have to come about under a mutual agreement between the Federal and provincial governments. (3) The provinces may set up their own machinery and control aviation within their own borders.

B.C. MINES STAND WELL DEPRESSION

Show Greater Strength Than Expected to Under Crisis, Convention Told

Vancouver, Nov. 20.—That British Columbia's mining industry has weathered the storm of depression better than might have been expected was the opinion expressed by J. D. Galloway in the first programme address of the morning session of the convention of the B.C. Division of the Canadian Institute of Mining and Metallurgy. He gave what he termed a "bird's eye" review of British Columbia mining during this year to date. He felt the industry was on the eve of better things. While he had no figures available, Mr. Galloway said he believed this year would see increased outputs of silver, lead and zinc and decreased production of gold, copper and coal. He believed that in dollar production the 1930 output would show a decrease of twenty per cent as compared with the preceding year for the latest figures available. "The province's main gold producer, Premier, will show a decrease," continued the provincial mineralogist, "but as against that pioneer mine will show an increase, and the general returns are being swelled by contributions from Union and Reno mines, both new producers. Placer mining will probably show a slight increase over the 1929 figure of $118,711.

GREAT SILVER OUTPUT

Mr. Galloway said that there is all probability that silver will establish a new high record of production in British Columbia this year. The prospect is for production of 11,000,000 ounces. Contribution of 1,500,000 ounces from the Prosperity mine at Stewart, a new shipper this year, is largely responsible for the increase. In reviewing the probable output it should be remembered, continued Mr. Galloway, that less mines have been operated and less men employed in the industry. Smaller mines have been closed in some instances and big plants have practised every economy.

While coal mining will probably show a decrease as compared with 1929, he said, the last four or five months of this year are expected to make a favorable showing as compared with the corresponding period of last year. "There is coal in British Columbia for every purpose," declared Mr. Galloway, "and those who patronize imported coal are in most cases paying a higher price for best units than when buying British Columbia coal. Much remains to be done in educating the public how coal can be handled efficiently. In the steam plants but in domestic houses, and how, under efficient handling coal can even compete with fuel oil in cost and in freedom from disagreeable features. I say add that in safety and in certain other features coal is superior to oil."

SHOWING DEVELOPMENT

While development has been curtailed this year, he continued, certain enterprises have gone ahead steadily. Consolidated Mining and Smelting Company is going ahead with the construction of chemical fertilizer plants at Trail, an enterprise which means the establishment of a new industry.

PEND OREILLE DEVELOPMENT

"Development of 175,000 horsepower hydro plant on Pend Oreille River is a direct result of the fertilizer plant," said Mr. Galloway. He mentioned the erection of a 100-ton pilot mill at Big Mission, the advent of Prosperity mine as a new producer, increased production at Pioneer mine and the steady progress of prospecting.

Dr. V. Dolmage was chairman of the meeting. This afternoon delegates listened to technical reviews of the mining situation in the different mining districts of British Columbia.

MEIGHEN URGES TRADE BARS TO CHECK SOVIET

Ex-Premier of Canada Says Nations Need to Stop Dumping

St. John, N.B., Nov. 20.—Rt. Hon. Arthur Meighen, former Premier of Canada, speaking at a banquet here yesterday evening in honor of Angus McLean of Bathurst, N.B., vice-president of the Canadian Chamber of Commerce and President of the Canadian Pulpwood Association, dealt at length with business conditions in Canada. He said that usually conditions of depression were marked by somewhat the same factors, but in the present case the situation in Russia contributed a factor never experienced before, especially as it affected the primary products of this country.

The Russian government, he pointed out, consisted of a military oligarchy imposing a condition of serfdom on some 140,000,000 peasants producing primary products, including wheat, pulpwood, coal and sugar.

While the exportable surplus was comparatively small, the political objective of Russia, he declared, was the sowing of discomfort and the disruption of government in other countries. The degree of discomfort and disruption would be in proportion to the tightness of the prices at which the Russian exports were sold.

These products, he declared, entering the consuming markets of the world, dominated the commodity costs in those markets, and if other countries allowed these commodities produced by a people in a condition of serfdom to be sold, they would impose a condition of serfdom on the working of people of the countries in which they were sold.

"It looks," he said, "as if the key nations of the world will have to adopt a special policy to apply to Russia and to Russia alone."

BIG BERYL CRYSTAL GIVEN TO MUSEUM

Winnipeg, Nov. 20.—The museum of the University of Manitoba has been presented by Consolidated Tin Corporation with a beryl crystal from ten to twelve inches in diameter and two feet in length. The crystal, an unusually good specimen weighing 125 lbs., was found in the neighborhood of forty ponds, was found on the Acman claim on Beryl Bay, Borneo Lake.

A lifeboat for distressed aircraft has been added to the life-saving facilities at Dover, England.

TEMPERS FRAY AS MEN IDLE

Toronto, Nov. 20.—Lack of employment seems to be affecting men in three ways—some have become depressed, some have adopted a pessimistic, if pathetic, attitude of lightness and humor, while still others are becoming ugly.

At one place where a couple of hundred men sleep on bare wooden benches every night, The Star was told yesterday that fights occurred practically every night. As the season advanced those in charge look for an increase in the physical violence which arises from the mental discomfort the men are in continually.

It seems to be another instance of taking it out on somebody else. Feeling the sense of failure in themselves and in a social system which has no work for them to do, they turn upon their fellow unemployed at the slightest provocation.

Householders in the city who have many jobs which the out-of-work men can do, are now given the opportunity through a newspaper organization to give a job if it only lasts for an hour or two as will go a long way toward keeping hungry men suffering from inferiority complexes from forgetting the deceptions of life.

U.S. Farm Income Cut 22 Per Cent

New York, Nov. 20.—In a study of agricultural depression, the Alexander Hamilton Institute says:

"Due to the curtailed crop yields and to the slump in the prices of agricultural products, the present outlook is that the total gross income received by farmers this year will amount to $22,222,000,000, as compared with $28,222,000,000 last year, a decrease of 22 per cent."

"This sharp curtailment of farmers' income represents a serious obstacle to a quick recovery in general business because 27,000,000 persons or 22 per cent of the 123,000,000 people in the United States derive their purchasing power from agricultural income."

"It has been necessary for the farmers to reduce their operating expenditures. The present outlook is that such expenditures will amount to $2,222,000,000 this year as against $2,822,000,000 last year, a decrease of 21 per cent. This means curtailed sales for manufacturers of agricultural equipment, automobiles, fertilizers, and other products used in farm operations."

"The farmers have been obliged to economize on the use of hired labor, thereby curtailing the purchasing power of the class. The prospect is that farm wages will total $222,000,000 this year as against $282,000,000 last year, a reduction of 21 per cent. The farmers have reduced their wage expenditures not only by paying lower wages but also by hiring fewer helpers. The average wage received by the farm laborer this summer was $47.24 per month without board as compared with $50.53 a year ago."

"The demand for farm labor at the beginning of the fall was 28.2 per cent below normal. There is consequently considerable unemployment among farm hands. This unemployment is intensified by the fact that urban wage earners out of work have migrated to the farms in considerable numbers in search of jobs. The supply of farm labor at the beginning of the fall was 5.6 per cent above normal."

"Despite the curtailment in operating expenditures and in wages to hired labor, the balance remaining for taxes, interest, rent and the farmers' personal income promises to total only $5,967,000,000 this year as against $7,667,000,000 last year, a decrease of 22 per cent."

"The farmers will not be obliged to pay as much rent this year as last because of their reduced income but they will not experience much relief in the form of lower taxes or reduced interest rates. The outlook is that taxes, interest and rent will amount to $1,800,000,000 this year as against $2,001,000,000 last year, a decrease of 10 per cent."

"This will leave the farmers $4,167,000,000 this year as a return for their labor, management and capital invested, as compared with $5,667,000,000 last year, a decrease of 26.5 per cent."

"Each farmer will thus receive on the average $655 this year, as against $822 last year, to expend on food, clothing, housing and other items which make up the cost of living for himself and his family."

"The sharp decrease in farm income on the one hand, and the need to make his position difficult. With the sharp reduction in prospect for this year it is evident that the farmers are in a serious plight. The outlook is that farm bankruptcies will be unusually numerous. This distressful situation is, however, the inevitable penalty of over-production. Yet, in exacting the penalty, the law of supply and demand is laying at the same time the foundation for sounder conditions."

YOUTHS STRIP THEATRE ROOF OF ALL COPPER

Loew's in Toronto Thoroughly Skinned of Metal Shingles; Police Catch Them

Toronto, Nov. 20.—Said to have carefully and thoroughly skinned the roof of Loew's downtown theatre of all the copper shingles, eaves-troughing and flash wires, two youths and three juveniles were arrested by Detective Sergeant Albert Johns and Detective Angus Taylor. They are alleged to have made one of the most elaborate thefts attempted in recent months in downtown Toronto.

The two youths arrested are Frank Woodchuck, aged seventeen and Peter Kryanowsky, aged seventeen.

It is estimated by the police that the amount of copper carried to the ground and later sold throughout the city would total more than 2,500 pounds. At 10 cents a pound, the present price for refined copper, the amount would cost in the neighborhood of $250.

The five prisoners are said to have told detectives that they made three visits to the roof of the theatre, and used the fire escape each time to carry the copper to the alley off Victoria Street. The copper was carried down to the ground in sacks and then dumped into a car and driven to a vacant lot. Later the copper was sold.

The last visit was made early Tuesday morning when, after taking all the available roofing from the theatre they stripped the copper from the fire escape in the theatre. This led to faulty electric work in the theatre and resulted in the discovery that there had been a wholesale theft.

"BUILD B.C. PATROLS"

"I like it." A VERY NICE LETTER

A patron in Prince Rupert writes: "Having used Pacific Milk for nearly five years I can truthfully say that I like it for its consistency, quality and richness which makes it equally good for table use and for cooking. I have tried other brands of evaporated milk but never cared for canned milk until I tried Pacific."

That's endorsement.

THE SEAPLANE BASE

IN THEIR MESSAGES DECLINING TO withdraw their opposition to the establishment of a seaplane base on Victoria Harbor, Mr. Beatty and Sir Henry Thornton said they had been advised that the Department of Marine had decided that "it was not in the public interest" that permission should be given for the use of foreshore rights for that purpose and that they concurred in the decision. Their replies would have been more explicit if they had stated that they themselves had decided that permission for the use of the foreshore should not be given and the Department of Marine had done the concurring. The Department already was on record as stating that it had no objection to the establishment of the base, and if the two transportation chiefs had not intervened there is no question that the project would have been carried out, particularly in view of the fact that the site was recommended by the expert officers of the aviation branch of the Department of Defence.

The action of the government of Canada in so completely swallowing itself at the behest of the heads of the two major transportation interests in this instance, in the face of the urgent protests of the Victoria City Council and Chamber of Commerce, is a rather sinister commentary on representative institutions in this country. It implies a supine abdication by the government of its responsibility and obligations in favor of the executives of the Canadian Pacific and Canadian National railroad systems, the transfer of the capital of Canada from Ottawa to Montreal, as far as a seaplane base in Victoria Harbor is concerned. We wonder in how many other directions this abdication has gone.

The curious feature of the situation is, however, that so far there is nothing in the decision of the Department of Marine—in which Mr. Beatty and Sir Henry "concur"—to prevent the operation of seaplanes in Victoria Harbor. The aircraft of the Alaska-Washington Airways and the projected International Airways will continue to light on the harbor and take off from it. The only effect of the decision, apparently, is to transfer the headquarters and base of the International Airways which were to be established on the foreshore here at a cost of $120,000, with the employment of a number of men, from Victoria to Vancouver.

Obviously the opposition of the railway interests to granting the use of the foreshore on the ground of protection to shipping is illogical if the planes continue to operate in and out of the harbor, with their bases elsewhere. It is very unlikely that the Department of Marine, subservient though it has been, will go the length of prohibiting aircraft from using the harbor at all. If it did so, the government would land itself into a nasty predicament. As a matter of fact, the movement of the larger ships, in and out of the harbor, occurs at intervals sufficiently apart to permit of an aircraft schedule which would not involve conflict. This could be arranged under adequate regulations.

There is every appreciation here of the value to this port of the shipping interests of the two big transportation companies and the necessity of affording them every advantage in their operations. But before Montreal intervened, the representatives of those interests, the railways companies and the city authorities, agreed upon a solution of the problem by special regulations by Ottawa which would safeguard the shipping interests. Aerial navigation is an established fact and will expand on a big scale. The two big transportation companies themselves are engaging in it, and no doubt before many years have passed will be operating aircraft between Vancouver Island and the mainland. When that time comes will they, too, not desire to operate in and out of Victoria Harbor?

A BELATED DISCOVERY

HON. WESLEY A. GORDON, MINISTER of Immigration and Colonization in the Bennett government, chose a luncheon of the Vancouver Canadian Club yesterday as an occasion for him to criticize the immigration policy of the late Liberal administration at Ottawa. He is reported by The Daily Province as having said that during the sixteen months prior to July 31 of this year, "a period when thoughtful men must have known that the country was heading toward a period of deflation," upwards of a quarter of a million persons were encouraged to migrate to Canada. In his opinion this was "undisciplined and uncontrolled immigration."

On Mr. Gordon's estimate of time, we must assume that if he had been Minister of Immigration in the month of March, 1929, he would have closed the doors against all newcomers "as a thoughtful man" knowing that a period of deflation was upon the country. But Mr. Bennett will hardly be likely to read his Minister's reference to this question with any enthusiasm. For if Mr. Gordon will turn to Hansard, he will discover that on May 22, 1929, two months after it was supposed to be clear to all thoughtful men that hard times were just round the corner, Major-General A. D. McRae, then Conservative member for North Vancouver and organizer of the Conservative party, complained that Canada was not getting new settlers in sufficient numbers. Indeed, he repeated his belief in the scheme which he had propounded a year before under which some 50,000,000 acres of land in western Canada would be settled by from 250,000 to 300,000 farmers, "the government financing the project to the extent of $30,000,000 a year for a period of ten years. This was the ambitious plan which Mr. Bennett blessed and described as a matter of great national importance—at a time "when thoughtful men must have known that the country was heading toward a period of deflation."

Who were the men who sounded the warning? If Mr. Gordon will turn once more to his Hansard, he will discover that Hon. Robert Forke, then Minister of Immigration, who, while not discussing the McRae plan in detail, expressed grave doubts of its efficacy. This was the general view of the government and its supporters, and nothing was done in the matter. Labor, as represented by Mr. H. B. Adhead, East Calgary; Mr. Donald M. Kennedy, U.F.A., Peace River; and Mr. John Evans, Progressive, Rosetown, opposed the plan, too. It was about this time, incidentally, that Bishop Lloyd—strangely silent since the Conservative government took office—was continually attacking the Liberal Minister of Immigration for not getting more British settlers, referring to continental Europeans as "dirty, ignorant, garlic-smelling" individuals.

Sixteen months prior to July 31 of this year Canada was enjoying unexampled prosperity. Not even the wisest or the most thoughtful of our business or financial leaders thought then that the country was in for a period of deflation. But what many people would like to know is how Mr. Gordon, as head of the Dominion's immigration service, justifies the deportation of natives of the British Isles who have resided in this country for fifteen or eighteen years. We wonder why Bishop Lloyd has not asked this question.

THOSE WAR DEBTS

FROM TIME TO TIME THE SUGGES- tion is made that there will be a wholesale forgiving of war debts. Rumor has it that even now certain British and United States economists are studying the whole matter from the essentially material point of view, trying to find out just what effect would be produced upon the economic structure of the world, for instance, if Great Britain and the neighboring republic called matters square, and Britain, on her part, cancelled the indebtedness of her European Allies—assuming that the United States did the same as far as her bills against foreign nations related directly to war activities. Perhaps the economists will explain this intricate business to the lay mind in due time.

Henry Morgenthau, former United States ambassador to Turkey, suggests that his country postpone the payment of all war debts for possibly a five-year period, with the stipulation that any country which is the aggressor in a war shall sacrifice this right of deferment. As a proposal, this looks sensible. But the fact remains that whatever the economists or the international idealists may think about it, there are very few American political leaders who would care to stump the country before the elections two years hence on a platform of debt cancellation, unless, of course, events move more quickly than appears likely at present. Meanwhile, debtor nations would be in a better position to improve their capacities to settle their debts if they would reduce their expenditures on armaments—if they would talk more of peace and less of war.

WHAT OTHER PAPERS SAY

THE HUMANITARIAN REVOLUTION
 Lord Knebworth in The National Review (London)

England is passing through a very grave period of industrial and social unrest. The gravity of the situation does not seem to be in any way mitigated by the fruits of humanitarian legislation. It is just as possible that from the first hour of its birth the humanitarian reformation has been nothing but one ghastly misconception, as it is that we have far to travel along the same road before the ultimate goal is reached. There has been a great change. Apparently it has not been successful. Now is the time to decide whether that failure has been due to the bad execution or worse conception of the policy which has brought it about. It is worth considering, at this moment in the country's history, whether high wages and industrial freedom would not perhaps be a better ideal than heavy taxation and the crude paternal discipline of a humanitarian state.

HYDROGEN AND HELIUM

The fate of the R-101 must and will spur England and other countries to a renewed search for workable quantities of helium or some other safe substitute for hydrogen gas. It may not be easily found within their possessions, but when it is found a large proportion of the uncertainty about the future of lighter-than-air craft will be removed.

FOR UNEMPLOYMENT RELIEF

So many bad accidents have occurred lately when stills blew up in residences that it might be a good idea for the state to provide a bureau for the inspection of home brewing and distilling equipment.

Twenty-five Years Ago To-day

THE VICTORIA DAILY TIMES, NOV. 20, 1905

The fisheries commission will to-morrow open its sittings in Victoria for the taking of evidence relative to the industry in its many phases.

Weather forecast—Victoria and vicinity: Light westerly winds, fair and cold to-night and Tuesday. Last evening's E. and N. train was more than usually crowded with the disciples of Nimrod. As it drew into the depot crowds of khaki clad hunters surged from the different cars and all appeared to be well loaded down with game.

Victoria merchants and others owning horses are very nervous over the epidemic of glanders which has broken out in Vancouver, and fear that it will spread to this city. Every effort will be made to prevent any outbreak of the disease here, and the veterinary surgeons are on the guard so that vigorous steps may be taken at the very first symptom of danger.

Dr. S. F. Tolmie, Dominion veterinary surgeon for the province, is busy on the mainland, so it is necessary that some one be appointed to act here during his absence.

To-night a meeting of the executive of the Victoria Lacrosse Club will be held at the office of Thomas Hopper, Five Sisters Block. Business of exceptional importance will come up for consideration.

When the steamer Queen City returned from the west coast early to-day anxious inquiries were made concerning the missing sealer Fawn.

A DISGUSTED RATEPAYER

To the Editor:—Kindly allow a small space in your valuable paper to draw to the attention of the ratepayers of Saanich in the water area, I read in your paper a few days ago that the council had decided to send the water bills by mail. We have spent a lot of time considering ways and means to aid the unemployed of Saanich and I think it is a splendid opportunity to do so, and by the way, for the read can do the job, so why overburden the already overburdened postman.

FIRST APPLE TREES

To the Editor:—I notice in tonight's issue of The Times some remarks by John Evans relating to the earliest orchard planted on Vancouver Island and also as to the origin of the broom, which is a little interesting. To the best of my belief both the first apple trees and the first broom were planted at Sooke by Captain Grant, who had spent some time in the early 50's. He was killed in the Crimea during the Russian war. When I last saw them, some ten years ago, these trees were about five in number, were still bearing well in the autumn, and resembled a Newton Pippin and are situated on the property of Major A. E. Cooke, readiness to say the broom has thriven beyond the desires of the local farmers.

WHEAT POOL

To the Editor:—In your issue of November 18 appears an article on the Canadian Wheat Pool, so evidently inspired by its opponents that any fair-minded reader, at all conversant with the facts, will be little inclined to thereby, unless it be in the stirring up of some "righteous indignation," as was the case with the writer, I would like, however, to draw attention to one statement made in said article to the effect that James Stewart and certain milling concerns controlled by him, owed their recent success to advice given by Wheat Pool officials. Now, apart from the fact that the said officials have already denied the statement, it is a little curious to find help asking the reader to believe that a man known on the grain exchange, Winnipeg, as the "Wheat King," known to me, as one who was fighting the Pool in every possible way, would take his "cue" from the leaders of that Pool as to when and how to buy his wheat? Adam's plea: "The woman tempted me and I did eat" looks quite reasonable in comparison with that of the "Wheat King" and his apologists. Fair play is what the farmers of the great Middle West have been seeking through their wheat pools. Should their search be in vain by reason of opposing interests on the one hand and misunderstanding on the other, Canada as a whole will suffer with them.

JUST CLAIMS STILL UNPAID

To the Editor:—During the visit of the Hon. Mr. Rhodes, Minister of Fisheries, to Victoria during the next few days, the old subject of compensation to sealers will be brought on the agenda to the front. Nearly a quarter of a century ago a treaty was entered into between Great Britain, United States, Japan and Russia by which they agreed to prohibit the taking of the fur seal on the high seas—pelagic sealing. This action was held to be necessary for the preservation of the seal herds. The British Government was acting for Canada, and this country having no seal rookeries to protect was to be paid a sum annually by the other three signatories in compensation for property loss and the destruction of a lucrative business. Practically the only Canadians interested were the Victorians—some 100 sealers sailing from this port for some years. It is the nature of things then that the only ones having a claim for compensation were connected with the Victoria fleet. That was the foundation of Canada's claim made upon the other powers through the British Government. The owners then of the Victoria fleet and the crews made the Canadian claim and nothing else.

Now the point the writer wishes to make is that wrongfully, cruelly, dishonestly no compensation has ever been paid the Victoria sealers for losses to which the treaty subjected them. That is to say, nothing outside of $50,000 paid to some five or six schooners and their Indian crews, which was a result of the Andette commission. Yet it is estimated that from two to three million dollars have been paid into the Dominion treasury on this account and treated as general revenue.

In connection with the Andette commission there is a little story that nearly all have forgotten. W. J. Taylor, one of our most eminent counsel practicing in this province, received an appointment from Ottawa as assistant counsel to Mr. Curran of Montreal, who was here to look after the government's side of the case. Mr. Taylor saw Mr. Andette's commission and noted its powers and limitations, and then promptly withdrew from the case—left the courtroom, observing caustically that this court was not intended to settle sealers' claims, but to seek an excuse not to settle them.

And under that cloud Canada still remains. Money has poured into the Dominion treasury. The seal herds have increased from 300,000 to 1,000,000 on the rookeries; seal skins have been at fabulous prices, yet men who had their lives in the business lived and some have died in poverty. A very pretty Canadian picture. Sealing was a legitimate and profitable business, some years worth from one to two millions to Victoria.

That it was legitimate, witness Lord Salisbury's dispatch when United States cruisers had violently seized several schooners, put a guard on board, sealed up their arms or towed them into an Alaskan port. The heartening message, for so it was, to the harassed industry ran about as follows: "The seizure of British vessels engaged in lawful occupation on the high seas must forever cease." And it did.

The company at the back of it all, back of the U.S. Government, had overworked their game, for the time being. They then took another tack, but many believe to-day that the seal industry really prevents a settlement of the Victoria sealers' claims. There is no space for to go into that phase of the subject now.

Mr. Rhodes, to be sure, the sealers' claims, he knows him, who gather their livelihood from the sea—his

GANDHI FINDS PRISON MOST COMFORTABLE

India Government Sees He Wants For Nothing at Yeroda

Poona, India, Nov. 20.—Mahatma Gandhi, sponsor of the independence movement in India, has been made one of the world's most comfortable prisoners. In addition to enlarged quarters, two white wardens have been assigned to see the Mahatma wants for nothing.

Mr. Gandhi has three rooms or cells to himself, a bath, and in addition a flower garden, off that part of the jail which is his.

At night the first breaker of the jail laws, who has been interned since last May, sleeps out under the stars, an arrangement possible since the monsoon rainy season had passed. The two European wardens in constant attendance on the Mahatma move his bed out in the garden at nightfall and carry it back into the building again, out of the sun, early in the morning.

As from the beginning of his life at Yeroda, near Poona, Mr. Gandhi has his own Brahman cook. Milk forms one of the chief articles of the Mahatma's diet and other faithful Brahmins tend the herd of goats specially provided by the Government. Every bit of food entering the prison for the prophet is handled only by Brahmins.

As a means of recreation Mr. Gandhi has recently taken up the cultivation of flowers. He looks after his blooms early in the morning, before the sun becomes too hot, usually afterward operating his spinning wheel until noon, in compliance with one of the Nationalist aims that all Indians should wear nothing but home-made clothes.

A good part of the afternoon Mr. Gandhi devotes to reading and attending to his correspondence. Prison officials say he is a model prisoner.

After football games guard against SORE THROAT

Gargle Listerine every 2 hours reduces mouth germs 98%

When you're on your way to a football game you're usually on your way to a cold, sore throat or worse. For the body, weakened by exposure, cold, and emotional strain cannot cope with the millions of disease germs breeding in the mouth. They gain the upper hand. Trouble follows.

Why not aid nature in fighting disease germs by gargling frequently with full strength Listerine, the safe antiseptic and germicide? Before the game. After the game also. Tens of thousands guard against trouble this way.

Listerine kills all type of germs, millions of them, in 15 seconds; the fastest time accurately recorded by science. Even the Staphylococcus Aureus (pus) and Bacillus Typhosus (typhoid), specified as test germs, yield to it in counts ranging to 200,000,000. Yet is safe, non-poisonous, healing in effect.

Used as a gargle Listerine reduces the number of disease germs in the mouth surfaces, 98%. That includes Micrococcus Catarrhalis (catarrh) and Streptococcus Hemolyticus germs, associated with colds and sore throat.

At the first symptom of trouble, gargle with Listerine every two hours and consult your physician. Lambert Pharmacal Company, Toronto, Canada.

SCORES BENNETT FOR EXHIBITION AT CONFERENCE

"Was There Ever Such a Ghastly Failure," Mr. Bennett
Asks in Toronto

Toronto, Nov. 20.—Premier Bennett's exhibition at the Imperial Conference was scored here by J. C. McRuer, K.C., in his public address here.

"Was there ever such a ghastly failure in the public life of Canada," asked Mr. McRuer, "as Mr. Bennett's trip to Europe to get in to the world's markets? Has he made the entry of Canadian goods into any market any easier?"

Mr. McRuer said it was going to take Canada now until a change of government to repair the injury done by Mr. Bennett's blunder. He supposed Mr. Ferguson at the keyhole must have felt the shock.

"If Mr. Bennett had gone to sleep over there somewhere or gone for a rest cure Canada would to-day have been infinitely better off," said Mr. McRuer, charging that Mr. Bennett had even meddled with the politics of the Old Land and had tried to stir up one party against another.

Mr. Bennett's castigation at the hands of The Manchester Guardian was referred to by the speaker, who said that whilst in Canada Mr. Bennett was constantly complaining of being misrepresented; in England he was complaining that he had been reported when he did not expect to be.

Mr. McRuer read the article from the Manchester paper and said it was going to take years before Canada was back to her high place in the estimation of the Old Country that the Dunning budget had placed her in.

They must give up that great ideal of economic unity of the empire as a lost cause, said Mr. McRuer, "because Mr. Bennett has blasted it away, and we are going to be left with our millions and millions of bushels of wheat and nowhere to sell it."

If Canada wanted to sell it must buy, said the speaker, tracing the vital connection between the farmer, the manufacturer and the workers, and asserting that Mr. Bennett by his action would cut the purchasing power of the Dominion 50 or 75 per cent.

Mr. McRuer scored the "financial extravaganza" of Mr. Ferguson, who, he said, through a period of unparalleled prosperity in the province, with no channel of taxation unexplored by him, had increased the debt of the province to $425,000,000.

Mr. McRuer said there must be a stop to the use of public funds for political ends. He referred scathingly to what he called the Godfrey-Ferguson stage play over the mothers' allowance applicant, and how her case would be further considered if she voted right.

"Godfrey had some stage play," said Mr. McRuer, "and Mr. Ferguson has some more stage play, and the matter must not be discussed by the press. He said to one paper that dares to defy him and which had published a version of the incident: 'You have got to deny that your report is true, or you will be shut out of Queen's Park.'"

"I object to have to go to some paper that I do not care for simply because the premier says a paper he does not care for will not get the news of the provincial departments," said Mr. McRuer. "There has been nothing like that since the day when the reactionaries put the printing press of William Lyon Mackenzie out of business—and perhaps Mr. Ferguson would have liked to do the same but found The Star presses too big. Mr. Ferguson calls upon The Star to repent, and denounces it because it does not say what he wants it to."

B.C. Apples Win at Toronto
Winter Exhibition; Weir
Announces Plans

Canadian Press
Toronto, Nov. 20.—With the livestock all stabled, exhibits of produce in the proper places, classes as large or larger than a year ago, judging progressing smoothly and the Federal Minister of Agriculture, Hon. Robert Weir, officiating along with Sir Robert Borden, at the formal opening yesterday evening, the Royal Winter Fair got under full steam here.

Yesterday was designated Canadian Day, and it was rather significant that the agricultural awards were distributed in national fashion, with practically every province sharing in the honors.

B.C. APPLES WIN
From the Pacific Coast came prize-winning apples, from Alberta the most expert juvenile calf and pig feeders, from Saskatchewan and Manitoba winners in spring wheat and butter.

Ontario supplied prize-winning seeds, dairy products, horses and apples. Quebec the same, and the Maritime provinces honors in dairy products, apples and seeds.

Prizes were well distributed in the seed grain judging. In the spring seed grain class, which brought a record of sixty-seven entries, S. Harcombe of Birtle, Manitoba, a previous winner, carried off first place on the seventy-pound sample of Reward, George Avery, Kelso, Sask., was second with sample of the same variety. Another Saskatchewan man, George S. Canfield of Woldrose, was third, and Eric Anderson, Wembley, Alta., came fourth.

WEIR SPEAKS
At the formal opening of the fair, Hon. Robert Weir, Federal Minister of Agriculture, told of the policies adopted after three days' deliberation of the Provincial Ministers of Agriculture and Federal officials which he named the "National Agricultural Policy."

Declaring that at the present period of depression new and drastic steps in the right direction should be taken, and speaking of the necessity of co-operation throughout agricultural Canada, the minister outlined four measures. They were:

1. Introduction of better blood in herds.
2. Scientific use of home-grown products for herd feeding purposes.
3. Careful study of the science of marketing.
4. Prevention of implantation and spread of poultry diseases.

Considering the difficulty of the average farmer experiences in securing a first class sire, whereby he might improve the blood of his cattle and the general usefulness of his stock, Mr. Weir undertook to supply free of cost to any group of energetic and deserving farmers a sire to be used during a period of two years. This, he thought, would eliminate expense and a useless waste of time and energy and encourage one of the more necessary and wholesome steps in the raising of profitable and sound stock.

TO TEST POULTRY
Mr. Weir promised the establishment within the near future of fully-equipped laboratories, where for a moderate sum any farmer could have his poultry tested. This would eventually eliminate the dreaded disease of pullorum, by which countless millions of dollars are lost each year.

Stringent legislation exacting a severe blood test of all imported chicks would also be a means of raising Canadian poultry to a high standard, he said.

The conduct and results of agricultural fairs would be investigated, the minister said. The full educational value was not being realized, in his opinion, and this should be remedied.

RAILWAY RATES
To the knotty problem of domestic freight rates, the minister promised earnest consideration. The condition of Vancouver or Victoria demanded investigation. The loaning of money grain from Winnipeg to Denmark or to farmers by institutions he thought dealt to squeezing out the farmers' credit.

Buckwheat Days are Here Again

Eyes brighten at these delicious Pancakes so quickly made

There's something in the crisp air of frosty mornings that suggests the inimitable tang of buckwheat cakes for breakfast. With Aunt Jemima prepared Buckwheat Flour, they are made in an instant. Simply stir with milk or water and then cook on a moderate fire.

No waste, because you mix only what you need and the buckwheats will be ready while the coffee is boiling. Fit for a king, yet cost only a penny a plate. Aunt Jemima's recipe was famous throughout the plantations of the Old South. Her own ingredients, ready mixed, come to you to-day just as she used them, and you get the same golden-brown, delicious pancakes. Serve whichever you prefer... buckwheats or southern pancakes. Aunt Jemima Pancake Flour comes in the red package... Aunt Jemima prepared Buckwheat Flour in the yellow package. Keep both on hand and be ready for all demands.

Would Prohibit Barmaids in Australian Bars

Melbourne, Australia, Nov. 20.—Prohibition of barmaids in saloons and of the sale of chocolate containing alcoholic liquors is now the main campaign aim of the Women's Christian Temperance Union here.

Believing that temperance—and eventually prohibition—will gradually be adopted in Australia, this women's organization is working towards that goal.

Perfect Sight—Without Glasses

Practically every known eye trouble—even partial blindness—has been benefited and entirely cured by a new technique. Far sight, near sight, astigmatism, cross-eyes, squint, cataract—all have been successfully treated without medicine, operation or optical aids of any kind. If you suffer from any form of eye trouble call at once and learn how you can have better eyesight, better health, a richer life—unhindered by glasses. It may mean so much to you.

SCHUBERT CLUB ADDS LAURELS TO ITS CROWN

Women Choristers Excel in Splendid Programme at Shrine Hall

Marion Copp of Vancouver Delights Packed House With Her Singing

By G. J. D.

The Schubert Club of female voices undoubtedly added to its lustrous renown in its first recital of the season yesterday evening at the Shrine Auditorium. In the club's seven years' active life of steady and unflinching progress, it has attained a high standard that can be reckoned among the leaders in ensemble singing of the northwest, and in the melting pot of time, competition and platform appearance, it has maintained a splendid reliability and fine choral effort.

Its founder and conductor, Frederic King, had again prepared a well-devised and thoroughly rehearsed programme, displaying in substance the character, the club's numbers, the soloists' songs and violin excerpts all contributing towards a most enjoyable concert and expressions of pleasure were heard on all sides.

ASSURED MUSICIANSHIP

As for the choir, seldom has it been heard to greater advantage. Notably, there seemed an assurance of musician-ship throughout. There were finish and refinement, a thoroughness in knowledge of word and music, a confidence—precision, unanimity, well-calculated changes of tone, expressive results and above all clear enunciation phrase.

The opening number, "The Song of Shadows," by Armstrong Gibbs, whose music has always an appeal, was a delight in its melody, shade of color and perfect softness in passage, splendidly contrasting with number two, in its virile definiteness: "A Song of the Sea" (Waring Stebbins), Hugh E. Robertson. "The Shepherdess," a delightful, refined and sung unaccompanied, was a fine example of the club's ensemble singing, and the large audience by this time, had caught the spirit of the singers and applauded unstintingly. The following number, Edward German's colorful, brisk and rhythmic "The Shepherdess," was splendidly accomplished and again evoked great applause, causing its repetition.

"Somebody's Knocking at Your Door" by Nathaniel Dett, with Marion Copp in the solo part, was an outstanding number and once again the club's reputation in its presentations of the "song spiritual." Here were there a religious fervor, plaintiveness and beautiful intonation, the softened accompaniment to the soloist being admirably sung. Another fine accomplishment was W. J. Marsh's "Sunset," with accompaniment for two violins and piano, the former played by Mrs. Wade and Mrs. F. G. Aldous, the latter by the club's accompanist, Miss Allen. The question "What Waits the Earth?" and the answer "Transfiguration" were splendid in dynamic change of tone, the climax in the last verse being most vivifying. This also had to be repeated.

"My Johnny Was a Soldier" (Dennis Taylor), and "All My Life Be Music" (C. C. Spruce), the two concluding numbers, were also well accomplished, the latter in the audience's appeal had its repetition.

MARIAN COPP

On a former occasion Marian Copp, the assisting visiting artist, established herself here, and again can return to her home town, Vancouver, in the knowledge that once more has won the hearts of a Victoria audience. She has a contralto voice of great sweetness, vibrant and sympathetic—now responsible did it prove in the "Somebody's Knocking" number, coming "through" the choir and the piano accompaniment.

In her very first number, Henry Purcell's "The Bird Song," which requires much careful and full singing, she evinced admirable discretion, using her voice with appealing dramatic values. Rich and full-toned was the familiar air, "Amour, Viens Adieu," from "Barnum and Delilah" (Saint Saens), sung in French, which again left a sense of deep satisfaction in the hearts of her hearers.

Similarly in the treatment of her second group were there also found taste and distinction. Schubert's "Litanies auf das Fest Aller Seelen," and Strauss's "Serenade," both sung in German, "Serenade" (Brahms) and Hugo Wolf's "Tis the Spring," were brilliantly rendered, the singer entering into the very heart of the poem. Its conclusion was met with tremendous applause. Her folk song group of four numbers again showed the splendid qualities of her voice. "The Twelve Days of Christmas," that needs careful thought in phrasing and enunciation and "The Cockle-Gatherer" (Marjorie Kennedy-Fraser) were much enjoyed, the soloist having to respond with two augmented numbers. "Charlie" (My Darling) and "Rose Marie," so insistent was the request of her ardent listeners.

Grace Allen accompanied in admirable manner, as she did the club numbers, again creating a most favorable impression. Owing to an accident Miss Copp was precluded from singing in the centre of the stage, and sang supportively at the piano.

MRS. CHRIS WADE

Mrs. Wade has been heard on former occasions and again showed sincerity and keenness in her correct violin playing. With further appearances she will become a violinist of much promise. Her tone is good and violinistic perception of a high order. She gave "Gavotte" (Bach-Reisler), Mozart's "Sonata in G Major," and "The Bird Song" (Purcell), receiving a warm tribute from those present, and was recalled to the platform, playing a "Dance Tzigane" in spirited fashion. Mr. Wade accompanied her with skill and sympathy.

Mr. King at the conclusion of the programme received many flattering remarks and a vote of thanks was handed Miss Copp, Miss Allen, Mrs. Wade and Mrs. Aldous.

YOUR BABY and MINE

By MRS. MARY LUTHER

Mrs. Eldred will be glad to answer all questions pertaining to babies and children. A stamped and self-addressed envelope forwarded to this office will bring a personal reply.

DON'T TIPTOE ABOUT WHILE BABY SLEEPS

Although the adult is surrounded by noise, habit teaches him to sift out the sounds that are meaningful to him and ignore the rest. The hard-of-hearing person who, after a long silence, begins to make use of an ear trumpet finds himself confused and made highly nervous by the multitude of sounds which assail his ears. With practice he learns to disregard those that are just noise and to listen only to those with meaning.

The baby is surrounded by a confusion of meaningless sounds. If they are around him constantly, he learns to ignore them. Babies sleep under all kinds of conditions and have better sleeping habits when natural sounds are not cut off. We cannot possibly rear a child in a vacuum; we cannot prevent noise no matter how hard we try, so we have to teach children to live and sleep and be happy under the conditions naturally surrounding them.

DON'T MUFFLE SOUNDS

That is why young parents are advised, when baby is young, not to tip-toe about, not to muffle door bells and phones, not to so accustom the baby to an unnatural silence that any unexpected noise is terrifying to him. The opposite extreme of creating loud and unnecessary noises would be just as inappropriate.

An unusual experiment in hardening the baby to noise is related by Mrs. E. D. O.: "One of your correspondents wrote of her young baby who was such a light sleeper. So was mine and as she grew older she became more so. Every sound disturbed her, the closing of a door, or the snapping of a light."

SLEEPS THROUGH PARTIES

"She is now two years old, sleeps about ten and one-half hours at night and two in the daytime. During a recent party she went to bed at her regular hour, 8 p.m., with all the doors open and not a sound from her. She slept through the hilarity of a Halloween party. Thank you so much for all the help I have had from your writings."

I think it was quite remarkable that you managed to introduce all this noise without upsetting the child in any way. In my opinion it is better not to erect false conditions about the child, but rather to let him get used to the various noises of the household from the very first. Of course no one method works with all children. If baby is ill or a poor sleeper, we can understand the difficulties; his mother would encounter in following your procedure.

LT.-GOVERNOR OPENS FACTORY FOR THE BLIND

Paid Tribute to Fred Landsberg at Ceremony in Vancouver Yesterday

Vancouver, Nov. 20.—The road today is full of women pushing their husbands ahead to success. We cannot do without the women in any of our undertakings. Therefore, I wish to pay special tribute to the women's auxiliary which has done so much to make the present achievement possible.

The speaker was Lieutenant-Governor Bruce of British Columbia, who performed the opening ceremony yesterday afternoon of the new $100,000 B.C. school and factory for the blind of the province, at 1031 West Broadway, and which is being operated in collaboration with the Canadian National Institute for the Blind. Rev. C. C. Owen, who presided, introduced His Honor and Miss Mackenzie to the assembled gathering of the sightless people and their friends and gave an interesting explanatory speech.

TRIBUTE TO SUPERINTENDENT

Special tributes were paid by His Honor to the new superintendent of the plant, M. C. Robinson, who, he said, was a standing example of what a blind man could accomplish once he set his mind to it. The new superintendent, it was explained, had come through more than any human might be expected to during the war.

The Lieutenant-Governor conveyed his thanks to those who had made this wonderful institution possible for the blind of British Columbia, paying special tribute to W. J. Blake Wilson for his untiring interest in the financial management of the plant, and to those who had made the present achievement possible. His Honor stated, and who had done so much to assist Superintendent Robinson, was Fred Landsberg of Victoria.

As a memento of the occasion His Honor was presented with a cairngorm pin by M. C. Robinson, general superintendent, on behalf of the blind people of Vancouver.

Mrs. Mackenzie, niece of the Lieutenant-Governor and chaperone of Governor House, was presented with a beautiful basket of flowers by a tiny blind girl.

INDIAN WOMAN IS DELEGATE

Mrs. Subbarayan Attends Round-Table Conference in London; Is Reformer

Canadian Press

London, Nov. 20.—Mrs. Subbarayan, one of the two women delegates to the India Round Table Conference (the other is the Begum Shah Nawaz), knows London and the South of England well, though they do not know her, for it has always been her habit to visit here and in Madras to avoid the heat of her native country. Every summer for many years Mrs. Subbarayan has come to England for the school holidays, for she has three sons at Eton, the eldest of whom is now seventeen.

REFORMER'S DAUGHTER

This clever Indian woman, who is the wife of the Chief Minister of Madras, has been connected ever since her earliest childhood with social reforms. She is a daughter of that great Indian social pioneer, K. M. Panikkar, whose whole life was devoted to an endeavor to break down caste barriers, the education of the masses and the freedom of women. He founded thirty years ago the Depressed Classes' Mission, and was a member of the Brahma Samaj Mander, a religion which forbids the worship of idols and teaches the belief in one God and the equality of man.

Mrs. Subbarayan's first thought when she was appointed a delegate was of how proud her father would have been to think that she was to take such a part in the shaping of her country's future. It was an unshared thing in the days of Mrs. Subbarayan's childhood for a Brahmin girl to go to school; but her father resisted all opposition, and her elder sister was the first girl of that high caste ever to go to school and to pass her matriculation examinations. Their family was boycotted on account of her father's progressive ideas.

UNIVERSITY GRADUATE

Mrs. Subbarayan took her degree at the Madras University and then married. She and her husband both came to Oxford and studied together, she being a resident student at Somerville, while he was at Wadham College. On their return to India both of them took up public work.

She is greatly in favor of women's clubs and is a leading member of the Ladies' Recreation Club in Madras, and herself founded last year the Nilgiri Ladies' Club at Ootacamund. Both these clubs are strictly purdah; many of the Indian ladies who belong arrive in closed carriages and alight between screens, so that not even the driver can see them, and no male servants are allowed in the clubs. But they enable women to get to know each other.

In their homes in Madras and Ootacamund the Subbarayans live in English style and use English furniture, but in Kumaramangalam, where Mrs. Subbarayan owns land and villages, they live in the traditional Indian way. There are no chairs to sit on, and their meals are served to them sitting on the floor on carpets. No meat may be brought into the bungalow, and they feed entirely on vegetables and fruits.

Sketch Club to Meet—The Sketch Club of the Island Arts and Crafts will open the winter sessions on Monday afternoon at 2 o'clock in the club rooms, Union Building. All members are invited to attend. The weekly indoor meetings will be devoted to sketching from models.

LEAVES STAGE FOR PULPIT

Former U.S. Beauty Queen Becomes Evangelist; "Converted" in Hollywood

Pine Bluff, Ark., Nov. 20.—Bright lights of the stage and a budding movie career have been brushed aside by an Arkansas girl and traded for a life in the ministry. Nine years ago Edith Mae Patterson, then a Pine Bluff school teacher, was selected "The most beautiful girl in United States." Today she is Mrs. Edith Mae Patterson, evangelist. For a year the beauty contest winner toured the country. Then she went to Hollywood where she was given a contract.

It was in Hollywood that the call of religion first sounded strong in the Arkansas girl's ears. While working on the movie lots, she attended a gospel meeting one night. Then she decided to give up her stage and movie career. She was married to J. B. Patterson, a minister, and for a short time retired from public life.

Back in her home town of Pine Bluff she was named pastor of the Assembly of God Church. At night she replaced the stage for her and for two years she devoted her time to looking after her "flock" here. Then Mrs. Patterson took up evangelistic work. She was married to J. B. Electric "Papa" Soothes Baby During Night

Schenectady, N.Y., Nov. 20.—Walking the nursery floor at midnight to soothe a crying infant, is only a memory for the modern father. Electricity now may do that nocturnal soothing. The baby daughter of E. S. Darlington, electrical engineer, sleeps in a room separate from that of her parents. But her father's ingenuity has done away with all worry over how baby is passing the night. A microphone, placed by the baby's crib, is connected to a loud speaker near the father's bed. At the baby's first cry, turns on a phonograph beside his bed, and a lullaby sounds through a loud speaker near the baby's crib. When the sound of crying ceases to come from the loud speaker at his end, father knows the baby is asleep again and he may roll over for another nap himself.

DIGGON HEARD AT KIWANIS COUNCIL EVENT

Pacific Northwest Governor-Elect Addresses Leaders at Chicago Convention

Chicago, Nov. 20.—Harold M. Dignon of Victoria, B.C., governor-elect of the Pacific Northwest Kiwanis district, which includes British Columbia, and one hundred other high officials, including all governors-elect from Canada and the United States, convened here to-day for the annual three-day council meeting of the organization. Mr. Dignon will officially take office January 1.

In the Pacific Northwest district there are thirty-seven Kiwanis clubs with a membership of over 5,343. Mr. Dignon, who was elected this fall at Victoria, told the council.

An increase in membership for all clubs will be urged by the council. "The future of Kiwanis depends on a large quality membership and constructive activities," declared Mr. Dignon. "Kiwanis serves society, and our clubs develop friendship and cultivate expression for doing good work in civic, provincial and state and national undertakings. The weekly meetings are not mere luncheon periods. Men are brought together to challenge the problems of the present day. Kiwanis in the past fifteen years has served our nations well both spiritually and materially," he said.

Raymond M. Crossman of Omaha, Nebraska, president of Kiwanis International, is presiding at all the council sessions, which bring together the largest gathering of officials at any time except the annual conventions. "The council," declared Mr. Crossman in his opening address, "is the legislative body empowered to confer advice with the board of trustees on all official matters of the 1,871 clubs with 100,000 members on the North American continent."

Water Shortage At Charlottetown

Charlottetown, P.E.I., Nov. 20.—Wells in use here a century ago were reopened yesterday as an emergency source of water in case of fire and the city was patrolled by a guard last night to ensure discovery of any blaze at an early stage. Water in the city reservoir was down to the one-foot level and the pressure was barely enough to carry it to residences on heights of land.

Barn and Livestock Destroyed By Fire

Brandon, Man., Nov. 20.—James Johnson, farmer of the Beresford district, strolled over yesterday morning and found that while he and his family slept during the night his barn and its contents had been destroyed by fire. Johnson's house is 150 yards from where the barn stood, but the farmer and his family slept peacefully while the barn, fifteen head of cattle, five horses, five tons of hay, a wagon, harness and other equipment were destroyed by flames of unknown origin.

FALL PLOUGHING CUT THIS YEAR

Ottawa, Nov. 20.—Fall ploughing was not so good this year as last. A crop report issued to-day by the Dominion Bureau of Statistics states:

"For all Canada, the proportion of land intended for next year's crops that had been ploughed at October 31, 1936, is estimated at thirty-six per cent., as compared with forty-six per cent. in 1935 and twenty-nine per cent. in 1934. By provinces, the proportions for 1936 are as follows, with the corresponding figures for 1935 within brackets: Prince Edward Island 60 (78), Nova Scotia 32 (48), New Brunswick 22 (48), Quebec 24 (78), Ontario 60 (58), Manitoba 60 (84), Saskatchewan 21 (19), Alberta 8 (43), British Columbia 43 (46)."

Missing Flier Reports Position

Washington, Nov. 20.—Lieut. Cornelius Couland, United States army flier reported lost between Tucson, Ariz., and El Paso, reported to Bolling Field yesterday evening from Deming, N.M., that he had landed there because of adverse weather conditions.

LIQUOR STORE CLOSING FOR WINTER URGED

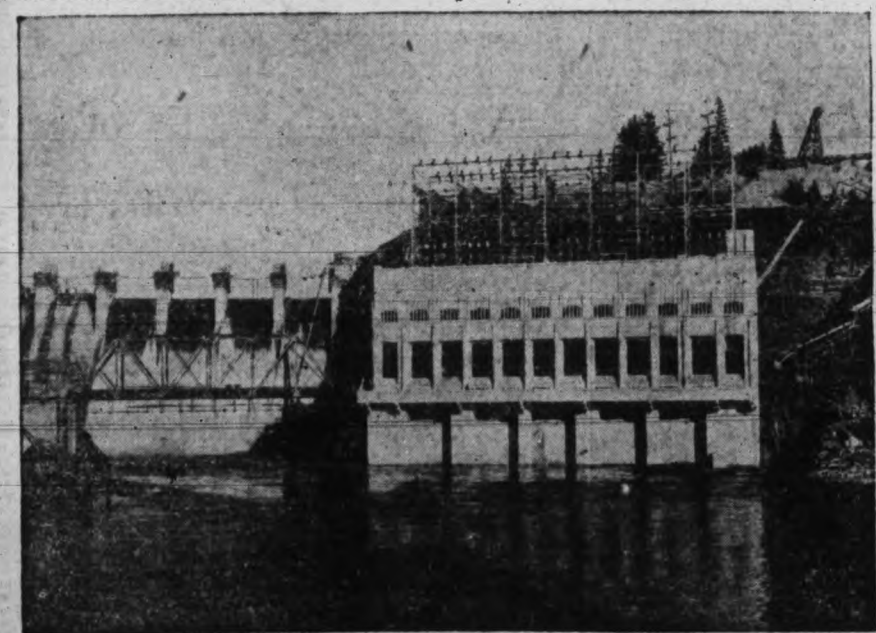

Government in Ontario Asked to Forbid All Sales to Persons Getting Charity Aid

North Bay, Nov. 20.—Service and charitable organizations meeting here to reorganize the North Bay Social Welfare Association and to discuss unemployment relief problems endorsed a resolution sponsored by Dr. G. W. Smith that the Ontario Government be asked to close the liquor stores during the months of December, January and February.

Should this action be not feasible, the resolution asked that the vendors be instructed to refuse liquor both to those receiving aid from charitable organizations and to those employed on all public works projected to relieve unemployment.

It was further suggested by A. Stuart that a ban be placed on the sale of solidified alcohol. Mr. Stuart contended that the transient did not worry about government store restrictions when there was plenty of this product available.

WHEN FOOD SOURS

Sweeten the Stomach instantly

About two hours after eating many people suffer from sour stomachs. They call it indigestion. It means that the stomach nerves have been over-stimulated. There is excess acid. The way to correct it is with an alkali, which neutralizes many times its volume in acid.

The right way is Phillips' Milk of Magnesia—just a tasteless, pleasant, efficient and harmless. But it kills excess acids. It has remained the standard with physicians for more than 50 years.

It is the quick method. Results come almost instantly. It is the approved method. You will never use another when you know. Be sure to get genuine Phillips' Milk of Magnesia prescribed by physicians for over fifty years in correcting excess acids. 50¢ bottles only. The genuine is always a liquid—never made in tablet form. Look for the name Phillips on wrapper and bottle.

COAL OUTPUT AGAIN LOWER

All British Columbia Mining Districts Show October Reductions

With a coal output of only 172,833 tons in October, the mines of British Columbia experienced another reduction in output, production in October, 1936, having been 210,285 tons. The Vancouver Island mines held within production up to 97,135 tons, six per cent of the output of 104,270 tons in October, 1935.

The East Kootenay district suffered the largest set-back, the October output falling more than one-third, from 81,850 tons to 53,545 tons.

The Nicola-Princeton area experienced only a small falling off in October, the output being 22,353 tons, compared with 23,939 tons last year.

Canada has eighteen "large" hydro-electric power systems, such systems being defined as those with an annual output of 100,000,000 kilowatt-hours or more.

BENNETT'S BREAK SAID TO BE JUST WHAT EXPECTED

Premier's Outbreak Against British Papers Recall Similar Incidents in Canada

Toronto, Nov. 20.—"And now Premier Bennett claims once more that he has been misreported," The Toronto Star says in its editorial on the Canadian Prime Minister's latest misadventure in Britain. "Only a few weeks ago he made an indiscriminate attack on the press of Canada for its alleged misrepresentations of his election speeches. This time it is the Old Country press he blames—The Manchester Guardian, one of the most careful and accurate of the British papers. He says (a) that its report dealt with a private meeting and was 'unauthorized'; and then (b) that he was misinterpreted and its report was 'pure fabrication.' Yet two members of the British parliament, who were present at the meeting declare the report to be correct, and one of them says he will, if necessary, produce half a dozen people to substantiate it."

"It was, it delivered as reported, a speech such as Canadians who have marked Mr. Bennett's attitude might fear he would make; an antagonizing speech strewn with references to the dumping of English goods in Canada, to 'sweated' Old Country labor, and to Canada's determination to 'look out for herself.' Certainly, as appeared in print, it was not an utterance calculated to help Canada or Canadian goods in the English market. For while the Old Country is hospitable to its guests, banquets them, gives them the freedom of its cities and appears to overlook their indiscretions, it is not without capacity to resent in a very practical way such gaucheries as those attributed to Canada's premier, and vouched for by members of Parliament who heard him speak."

"Mr. Bennett claims the reports of that speech are inaccurate, but he also claimed that the press of Canada was inaccurate when it reported him as making reference during the election to a Canadian treaty with Germany. Mr. Mackenzie King later pointed out in the House that no such treaty exists. Mr. Bennett retorted that he had referred to countervailing duties against Germany, not to trade treaties. And when Mr. King had insisted that the reference had been to a treaty, Mr. Bennett declared, 'I was wrongly reported, then.'"

"But since Mr. Bennett made this declaration, it has been discovered that the official report of his Winnipeg speech, embodied in the Speakers' Guide issued by the Conservative party, contains the following: 'In the past few years the government of Mr. Mackenzie King has carried out what it calls "most favored nation" treaties, by which the manufactured goods of other nations secure entry into our markets at minimum rates of duty—treaties with France, treaties with Germany, treaties with Italy, treaties with all the nations of the world.'"

"So Mr. Bennett did say it. He said it, as he says many other things, because his tongue seems unfortunately to be a better marionette than his mind, and run on ahead while his thoughts are still picking daisies at his mind's last stopping-place. True, politicians are sometimes misreported. But Mr. Bennett's claims in that regard are rather too frequent to inspire confidence."

Our Lord's Life Told Once More in Model Draws Crowds.

Every day large crowds are making their way to the old Christ Church Cathedral, making certain that they will see "Jerusalem," the magnificent city.

This is perhaps one of the best exhibitions that has ever come to Victoria. Grand Brothers are the builders, owners and exhibitors of this unique spectacle, built in Edmonton, Alberta.

It is a show better seen than described, for its beauty and intricacy of detail not only beggar description but require a good knowledge of mechanics to render a detailed description intelligible.

ligible. The words "magnificent, gorgeous, unequalled," and a score or more of superlatives have been used in reviews by leading Canadian and United States newspapers, and it cannot be said that they are exaggerated. This famous mammoth model of the Holy Land gives special prominence to the cities, villages, mountains, rivers and country places associated with the life of Jesus. Its construction is a tribute to the patient and meticulous labor of Grand Brothers. Jerusalem is there with its oriental building, its walls and gates; Bethlehem with its cave and manger showing Joseph and Mary and the Holy Babe Jesus. There is also shown Nazareth, Nain, Cana, where water became wine; Capernaum, Tiberias, the beautiful Sea of Galilee and Mount Calvary with its great scene of sorrow. It is an accurate and vivid historical idea laid out before your eyes; it visualizes the characters, the scenes and places as they might appear in the time of the great Bible drama as no book could do. It will be well worth your while to see it any afternoon or evening.

Pender Island

Alexander Hamilton has been spending the last week on the mainland visiting friends and relatives, prior to wintering at Welcome Bay.

Mr. and Mrs. Victor McNeil have returned to their winter quarters at Browning Harbor from the northern fishing grounds.

Earl Phelps has returned to his duties up the coast after visiting his mother, Mrs. F. Phelps.

The Misses Locke and Dickinson spent the Thanksgiving week-end with relatives in Victoria.

Miss Isabel and Master Stewart Corbett came home to spend the holiday with their parents.

Miss Rae Murray and Master Murray McLean came down from Vancouver and spent the week-end with the latter's parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. E. McLean.

"Sargon has given me a feeling of health and well-being that I haven't enjoyed in years," declared Mrs. Olive L. McPhée, recently, who lives at 435 Superior St., Victoria.

"A rheumatic condition had developed in my ankles and I had a dull pain in the lower part of my back that made me so weak I could hardly walk. My feet felt cold all the time, my circulation was so poor, and I became so nervous it would be three or four hours before I could get to sleep at night. My complexion was right sallow-looking and my tongue nearly always coated.

"It's remarkable what two bottles of Sargon have done for me! I had a wonderful strengthening effect that steadied my nerves and made me feel better all over; my circulation picked up to normal; the rheumatic pains in my back and ankles began to disappear and for the first time in years, I'm now able to get a good night's rest."

"Sargon Pills proved to be just what I needed to strengthen out my liver and regulate my bowels. My tongue doesn't get coated like it used to and my complexion has cleared up wonderfully."

"The other day I told a friend of mine about Sargon, who had recently had pneumonia, and she tells me she is getting fine results already—that's one reason why I felt that I should give this statement, so that other sufferers could know about this splendid treatment."

Sargon may be obtained in Victoria from the following stores: In New Westminster from the Fulmer Drug Store, and Oak Bay from Charles Hudson.

Montreal Canadiens and Maroons Resume Inter-city Struggle

THE Great Game Looked For When Keenest MIRROR Of Rivals Battle

Tunney Became Millionaire in Less Than a Year
Earnings of Former Champion Totalled $1,742,282.04
Paolino Uscudun Between Devil and the Deep Sea
Careers of Touring English Badminton Stars Reviewed

DURING THE course of Tim Mara's suit against Gene Tunney, former heavyweight boxing champion, at New York, it was revealed that Tunney's earnings from all sources reached a total of $1,742,282.04. This represents his income for the two years he held the title from boxing matches, theatrical and motion picture appearances, newspaper syndicate articles and other items resulting from the exploitation of his championship.

It was revealed furthermore that those thirty minutes of fighting in the ring at Philadelphia on September 23, 1926, when Tunney won the title from Jack Dempsey, raised Gene from the class of a boxer with little funds to that of a millionaire in less than a year. That was his one big year, and that was in 1927. His earnings in 1926, after he won the championship, were less than $250,000 and in 1928 they were slightly more than $300,000. These totals take no account of the payments he made to managers and members of his staff.

Tunney's earnings, the first such accounting of a fighter's (profits) to be made public, were as follows:

1926. From September 23 to December 31
Motion picture rights Tunney	$4,697.50
Advertising	1,500.00
Theatrical engagements	25,000.00
Newspaper articles	7,173.75
Tunney-Dempsey bout at Chicago, 1926-27
Training camp exhibitions	10,000.00
Advertisements	10,000.00
Theatrical engagements	63,000.00
Motion pictures	10,000.00
Radio	2,500.00
Newspaper articles	32,800.00
Victoria	1,500.00
1927
Honey bout	$525,000.00
Motion picture	10,000.00
Advertisements	23,000.00
1929
No proceeds
Total	$1,742,282.04

Boxing authorities claim Tunney's earnings were the largest ever amassed by a prizefighter with the exception of Dempsey, who was the greatest money-maker the sporting world has known and whose earnings as the direct fruit of his championship are estimated at more than $2,500,000. Even in 1927 when Tunney was the reigning monarch of the boxing world and Dempsey was defeated, ex-champion Jack earned more than Gene because he fought more battles.

Paolino Uscudun, Spanish heavy-weight, who is scheduled to fight Primo Carnera at Barcelona on Sunday is certainly having his troubles. Rioting conditions in the Spanish city have held up ticket sales and promoter Jeff Dickson has proposed switching the bout to Milan. On top of this if Paolino goes through with the bout he faces suspension by the New York State Athletic Commission. If he does not go through with the bout he will lose his boxing license in Europe. He is between two fires.

The State Athletic Commission reached this decision regarding Paolino when Tom McArdle, matchmaker for Madison Square Garden, recently appeared with a request for sanction to a bout between Paolino and Max Baer. Pacific Coast boxer, at the Garden on December 19. The reply of the commission was that it would approve the bout if the Basque did not fight Carnera.

The touring team of English badminton players, which will play in Victoria on November 28, includes six of the finest players the game has ever produced. These are the best of the various members of the team follow:

Sir George Thomas is the veteran of the team, although his skill and speed belie his advancing years. He is known to many local people through his book on badminton, which is a classic. He is responsible, perhaps more than any one else for the advance in popularity of the game has achieved in recent years. He has been the single champion of England on four occasions, and in 1922, and has shared the doubles championship in nine different years between 1908 and 1928. Not content with such distinction he has shared the mixed doubles championship in eight different years and has appeared among the Irish and Scottish champions on numerous occasions. While the success of his game depends less on the severity of his play than it did formerly, he has in the meantime developed the more delicate drop shot and placements to such a degree that he is still a championship threat in any gathering.

H. S. Usher, member of the Crystal Palace Club, is pre-eminently a doubles player, and has held both the men's and mixed doubles championships in England. He has also shared in winning the Scottish all comers' doubles on four occasions. He is said to be the most accurate player among the visitors. He and his wife are the present mixed doubles holders.

J. F. Devlin is a past master in court tactics and placements. Also a member of the Crystal Palace Club, he has the distinction of being singles champion of England, and has won the mixed doubles championships on ten occasions. He has also been successful in carrying off championships in both Ireland and Scotland. Next to Sir George Thomas, Devlin has been most successful in developing an all-round game, being master of every stroke and the game.

D. C. Hume is one of the younger members of the team and is the present

J.B.A.A. WILL OPPOSE WEST ROAD FIVES

Three Basketball Games at Suburban Hall This Evening; Expect Keen Battles

Three basketball games will be played at the West Road Hall to-night, with the J.B.A.A. taking three teams to the suburbanite stronghold. The feature game will find the J.B.A.A. Blues stacked up against the West Road Senior "B" hoopers, undefeated leaders in their division in the City League. The other two games will find Keating women playing the J.B.A.A. and the West Road senior "C" men playing the J.B.A.A. Reds. The senior game should provide plenty of good basketball, as both aggregations are performing at a fast clip. The women's game should see the J.B.A.A. winning handsily, as they have shown better form to date in league games, and their superior weight and experience will be a great advantage on the small floor. The senior "C" game is practically a toss-up with the home team holding the advantage on their own floor. Tommy Pedens and his boys are real sharpshooters on this floor, and are capable of giving any team a great battle. The first game is scheduled to start at 7:30 o'clock.

THE TEAMS
Probable starting line-ups follow:
J.B.A.A. Reds—Bain, Osmund, Williams, Erickson, Darbyshire and McMillan.
West Road Senior "C"—Bickford, S. Bickford, W. Sluggett, C. Sluggett, P. Lannon and T. Pedens.
J.B.A.A. Women—L. Sparks, M. Sparks, G. Taylor, I. Crawford, V. Midgley, C. Yeamans, I. Paulbrook and K. Freeston.
Keating—J. Anderson, N. Amey, A. Styr, N. Styr, and V. Handy.
J.B.A.A. Blues—Bull, Moses, Wright, Calland and Young.
West Road Senior "B"—G. Lannon, M. Lannon, Clouston, Sluggett, C. Sluggett, Andrews and Bickford.

holder of the singles championship. Hume, together with White and Nicola, represent the strength and dashing play of youth. Speed and hard-hitting are his strongest assets, and he is reputed to be the fastest man on the court of all the visitors.
R. M. White is another young man and like Hume a hard hitter. He is said to have the most deadly smash of all the players. He is rated very high particularly in singles, in doubles he is expected to partner Thomas.
R. C. F. Nicol is the youngest member of the team, being only nineteen. He has yet to win a singles championship, but he is expected to partner Thomas.
D. C. Hume is one of the younger members of the team and is the present

FINANCIAL WORRIES MAY KEEP ROUGHRIDERS FROM SEEKING CANADIAN TITLE

Regina, Nov. 20.—Champions of senior rugby in the west for the fifth successive year, Regina's Roughriders are undecided as to whether they should attempt to lift the Dominion crown this fall or not. The trip to Vancouver, where the "Riders" won the western title, was a costly one to the club and financial worries may keep the Queen City stalwarts from journeying east.
Both in 1928 and 1929 the Roughriders traveled to Hamilton, where they succumbed to the mighty Hamilton Tigers, but the showing put up by the club last fall and again a few weeks ago in an exhibition game here, was such as to make their supporters clamor for a final this year.

Gene Sarazen And Dudley Win Golf Match at Seattle

Seattle, Nov. 20.—In an exhibition eighteen-hole golf match here yesterday Gene Sarazen, New York, and Ed Dudley, Bloomington, Del., conquered Frank Rodia and Ralph Winkley, Seattle. Sarazen and Dudley held a four-hole lead at the tenth but the Seattle players came back strong on the last eight. Rodia nearly sunk a thirty-foot putt on the eighteenth, which would have halved the match.
Sarazen and Dudley will compete in the Oregon State Open tournament in Portland next Friday, Saturday and Sunday.

KNIGHTS WILL PLAY NANAIMO

Local Intermediate "A" Basketball Five to Journey Up-island Friday
The Knights of Pythias Intermediate "A" basketball team will journey to Nanaimo Friday night to try conclusions with the coal city seniors in an exhibition game. The Knights are traveling at a fast clip, and are capable of holding their own with any team on the island. Nanaimo has a strong squad, having dropped close decisions to Vancouver teams on two occasions this year.
The Knights, although only classed as intermediate "A" players have three men who have competed in senior "A" company, while the other members of the team are all first class players. Nanaimo will hold a big weight advantage, but they will have to step all the way to decision the local youngsters.

WOMEN'S DOUBLES

Miss Campbell and Miss Dunn beat Mrs. Poyntz and Miss Weeks, 15-4.
Miss Marconini and Miss Warnock beat Miss Cheer and Mrs. Thomas, 15-7.

Scottish Practice

Members of the intermediate and senior Canadian Scottish rugby teams are requested to attend a practice at the Armories this evening at 8 o'clock. All players are asked to turn up on time.
The following players will make the trip for the Knights: Harold Sheppard, Andy Campbell, Jack Gaddell, Fred Donald, "Burr" Brown, Darrell Russell, Colin McKenna and Tommy Forbes.

Jimmy McLarnin Is Slight Favorite To Defeat Petrolle

Sell-out House Expected to Watch Classy Welterweights in Action To-morrow Night at Madison Square Garden; Vancouver Battler Is 2 to 1 Favorite Over Fargo Express; Fighters Will Be At Even Weight; Many Figure Petrolle, Who Has Splendid Record, Will Give Jimmy a Tough Time.

Canadian Press
New York, Nov. 20.—Their heavy work of training completed, Jimmy McLarnin, of Vancouver, and Billy Petrolle, the Fargo Express, are waiting for the gong that sends them out to show New York's fight fans what one of their favorite fistie sons can do against an opponent of his own weight and class.

McLarnin, the Canadian, whose victories in New York have made him one of the city's most popular scrappers, and the sturdy Petrolle, meet in Madison Square Garden to-morrow night for a ten-round battle. McLarnin's record stands at 20 wins, 1 draw, and 1 loss. Petrolle, a veteran, who also packs a wallop, are not sure about that margin.

In his recent battles, notably the one which saw him beat Al Singer, the recently disposed lightweight champion, McLarnin has had a considerable weight advantage that will not be with him to-morrow. Petrolle plans to come into the ring at about 140 pounds, McLarnin's favorite weight.

HAD GOOD RECORD
The fight fans also point out that the Fargo Express was good enough to run down Tony Canzoneri, who succeeded Singer as lightweight title holder, and to give Jackie (Kid) Berg one of the battles of his life, a record which stands a good bit of comparison with McLarnin's.
One thing that seems to be certain is that the fight faithful will turn out in force. The size of the advance sale has brought a prediction from the Garden box office that there will be something close to a sell-out.

Former Famous Fight Referee Dies Suddenly

New York, Nov. 20.—The body of a man identified as John Gallagher, referee at the Dempsey-Pirpo heavyweight battle in 1923, lay in the morgue to-day—a victim of a puzzling circumstance.
The man died yesterday of an internal hemorrhage at a lodging house and was identified by callers at the morgue as the former boxing official. The lodging house clerk, Jack Ansell, said the man was brought in Tuesday night and registered by a companion who said he had been struck by an automobile. He had an attack during the night and succumbed at noon.

COCHRAN HAS BIG MARGIN OVER HOPPE

California Cue Star Leads 1,800 to 884 in 18.1 Balk Line Championship
Cochran Had High Run of 142 Yesterday to Establish New World Record
New York, Nov. 20.—Half way through their title match, Walter Cochran of Hollywood, Cal., had a margin of nearly 1,000 points over Willie Hoppe to-day in their match for the world's 18.1 balk line billiard championship.

Cochran, playing an almost unbeatable game, has won six straight balks to pile up a lead of 1,800 to 884. Yesterday he won the afternoon block by the margin of 300 to 250, then ran away with the evening block, 300 to 75.

The Californian hardly has given Hoppe a chance, adding one long run after another, while Hoppe has had to be content with ordinary clusters. Cochran had a high run of 142 yesterday afternoon, again passing the former world's record, which he had broken the day before.

Nicol 16, Warnock 2, Reynolds 5, John Taylor and Jack Taylor, 10-10.
Colman—Borde 6, Bell, McDonald 6, Pillar 8, Elliot, Yeamans 4 and Smith.
HIGH WIN EASILY
The opening game saw the High School score an easy win over the Normalites. The Normalites were greatly improved over their last appearance, and should they continue to show improvement, may cause several of the squads in this division plenty of worry before the season ends.

At Chapman and Oliver Goddard each counted twelve points to lead the scoring parade.
Alan Lemarquand refereed all games.
The teams and individual scores follow:
High School—Goldsmith 12, L. Patrick 2, Moore, Chapman 12, M. P. Smith 10, and Smith 10.
Normal School—McLean, Gidd, Waymire, Tully, Quaye 2, Hall, Wallach.

EXHIBITION GOLF MATCH UP IN AIR

Sarazen and Diegel Unable to Come Here Tuesday For Game With Taylor and Black Game May Be Arranged Wednesday With Sarazen and Al Espinosa Performing
Owing to the fact that neither Gene Sarazen nor Leo Diegel will be able to play here next Tuesday, the proposed exhibition match between the two famous United States pro golfers and Phil Taylor, Victoria Golf Club pro, and Dave Black, Vancouver professional, at the Victoria Golf Club, is off for that day. In a wire received by Taylor this morning from Bob Harlow, who is at present in Portland and is looking after the golf match might be arranged for Wednesday with Sarazen and Al Espinosa opposing Black and Taylor. However, unless the same four can take part in an exhibition match at Vancouver on Thursday, the local exhibition will be called off.

DIEGEL GOES SOUTH

It has been impossible for Diegel to make the trip owing to the fact that he will have to leave for Mexico immediately after playing in the Oregon open, which concludes on Sunday. Diegel is the pro at the Agua Caliente Club.
Immediately upon receipt of the wire Taylor got in touch with Vancouver in an effort to arrange a match for that city on Thursday. The Victoria match hinges on the Vancouver engagement being made.

According to the plans made yesterday, Sarazen and Black were to have played Taylor and Black here on Tuesday and on Wednesday at Vancouver. In his wire to Taylor this morning, Harlow declared Sarazen would be able to make the trip for a match Wednesday and possibly Al Espinosa, but if the latter could not come he would secure another member of last year's Ryder Cup team to partner Sarazen.

Canadian Students Win Hockey Match

Oxford, England, Nov. 20.—An Oxford University ice hockey team, composed entirely of Canadian students, beat the German hockey team in a game here yesterday evening, 3 to 1. H. G. Lafleur and L. C. Bennycastle scored the Oxford goals. Bennycastle finding the net twice.

Vancouver Sending Entries For Y.M.C.A. Gala

Crescent and I. B. C. Teams Named For Big Meet Here Next Week

Flashy Squad of Youngsters to Invade City in Attempt to Lift Provincial Championships; Alena Clampitt to Try For Aggregate Trophy; Entries Expected From Other Mainland Clubs; Gala Will Be Held at Crystal Garden, November 29.

Vancouver will be represented by a flashy squad of young swimmers in the Y.M.C.A. provincial championship gala in the Crystal Garden a week from Saturday evening, it was revealed in dispatches and entries received by Archie McKinnon, coach of the local "Y" team, this morning.

University of British Columbia, Crescent, Vancouver A.S.C., West Vancouver and Meraloma water stars will come for the aquatic meet, which includes three provincial title contests. Led by Ronnie Wilson, fast free-style ace, Varsity stars will offer plenty of competition to local swimmers and divers, it was learned on the receipt of the U.B.C. entries.

Along with Wilson will be Allan Spencer, Harry Anderson, Norm Gustafson and Bill Moffat. The first four will take part in individual races and will represent the Vancouver students in the relay. Billy Moffat, a former Y.M.C.A. lad, will take part in the diving along with another Vancouver entry, Ed Hornsby. Although comparatively nothing has been heard of Hornsby in diving circles, he is reported to be one of the best acrobats and tumbler in the province.

Moffat is also a spring-board artist of some merit and will add to the color of the event.

NAVY SWIMMERS
Swimmers from the Navy have also indicated their intention of taking part in some of the events and plan to enter a relay squad.

H.M.C.S. Vancouver may also enter a team. Along with the Varsity and local "Y" representatives they should put up a keen race.

CRESCENT GIRLS FAST
From the Crescent Club will come a fast contingent of young girls, many of whom have demonstrated their speed in this city in previous galas. Frances Glack, back stroke flash, will be accompanied by her young sister Marian, who will swim in the under-fourteen year class for girls.

Mrs. Dot Richardson will also race the back stroke division as well as the fifty yards freestyle. She is also expected to be a member of the relay team.

Irene Lamb, fair-haired young mermaid who has repeatedly flashed brilliant form here, is reported to be in fine shape for the fifty yards freestyle and is counted on to be a strong link in the relay. Helen Anderson will also compete in these events.

Among the boys, Gordon Knechtel, Jimmie Lamb and Reg Shelly will swim in the fifty yards freestyle as well as the relay. Shelly will also compete in the men's breast stroke. In addition Ernie Austin, Hughie Lamb and Ralph Riek may also make the trip.

TO TRY FOR TROPHY
Alena Clampitt, outstanding Vancouver girl breast-stroke swimmer and daughter of the president of the B.C. section of the C.A.S.C., will make a definite attempt to lift the aggregate points trophy for women. Not only will she contest the women's B.C. breast-stroke championship against the best of the local talent, but she will take part in the diving, fifty yards back stroke and fifty yards freestyle.

This competitor securing the highest number of points in these four events will receive a special trophy for the best all-around girl swimmer. Indications point to a fair number of entries from the Vancouver A.S.C. as well as Meraloma.

With the meet scarcely a week away, Victorians are finishing off their training and hope to be able to repel the attacks of the mainland squad on the provincial championships.

NAVY HANDED FIRST DEFEAT BY GARRISON

Wednesday League Football Leaders Beaten 2 to 1 in Fast Match

Richard Scores Both Goals For Tommies; Hudson's Bay Beat Saanich

After establishing a fine string of victories in Wednesday League football, the Navy, leaders of the league, suffered their initial defeat of the season yesterday afternoon at the Work Point Barracks, being handed a 2 to 1 setback by the Garrison. In the second match of the day, Hudson's Bay, defending champions, came through with a 4 to 1 victory over Saanich United at the Royal Athletic Park. The Navy continue to top the standings by a two-point margin over the Garrison, with the Bays a like number of points behind the Tommies.

Forced to play throughout the match with only ten men, the Navy offered up a great fight against the Garrison. The sailors have lost the services of Bruce Robinson, their star centre-forward, who has left the city. Walker, another member of the team, is also out of the game through injuries.

RICHARD SCORES TWICE

Two goals by Richard, one in the first half and another in the second period of play, gave the Garrison their victory. Ten minutes after the start of the match the Tommies went into the lead with Richard beating Johnson in the Navy net. The goal was a great feat to save the shot but the ball slipped past his hands. The Navy pressed strongly with the Garrison goal subjected to several dangerous attacks. Half-time found the Garrison still leading 1 to 0.

Fifteen minutes after the start of the second half the Navy jumped on to even terms again, when Corrier drove in a nice centre from left wing that Tommy Watt headed into the Garrison net. The Tommies were on the offensive from the kick-off and were awarded a free kick just outside the penalty area. Burgess booted a hard drive dead on the Navy goal that Wylie kicked clear, but Richard rushed into score on the rebound.

"Scotty" McKay refereed.

The teams were as follows: Garrison—Wingert, Linsley, Burgess, Quinn, Dore, Bunkoff, Edwards, Richard, McAllister, Forbes and Bradshaw.

Navy—Johnson, Whyte, Walters, Roberts, Snider, Pittall, Cozier, Twines, Watt and Hilling.

Scoring three goals in the second half after being held to a 1-1 draw in the opening period, the Hudson's Bay secured a fine victory over Saanich United. The Bays were forced to play with only ten men, after twenty minutes of play, Davis, one of their half-backs, having to leave the field through injuries.

For the first fifteen minutes of the game the Saanich team had a decided edge, and it was during this period Teddy Hawkes scored their lone goal following some fine combination play by the United forwards.

The Bays finally settled themselves and forced play to the other end of the field, where Fish tested Carey with a fast drive. At this stage of the game Davis was hurt and left the field. Despite their being short handed, the Bays continued on the attack and tied the score when Wyatt, one of the Saanich backs, kicked the ball into his own net, after Carey had come out to save from Fish.

BAYS HAVE EDGE
Starting the second half the Bays had everything their own way, and Purdy put the departmentals in the lead with a sizzling shot from close quarters. The Bays' third goal came when Woodley converted a fine centre by Melmoyle from a corner kick. Bays' fourth and final goal was scored by Fish on a fine bit of individual play.

Armstrong refereed.

The teams were as follows: Hudson's Bay—Geddes, Armstrong, Tupman, Oakman, Woodley, Davis, Melmoyle, Cull, Fish, Purdy and McNeill.

Saanich United—Carey, Wyatt, Cann, Speller, Moir, Stonier, Brown, Preston, Davison, Hawkes and Tyson.

TIMES TEAM PLAYS SOOKE

Newspaper Basketballs Meet Suburbanites in Opening Game of Season

Saturday night will witness the opening of the basketball season at Sooke when The Times five oppose the suburbanites in the first game on the Sooke Mall floor. In past years Sooke has always had a team that was capable of giving any local quintette a great game, and this year they have another strong team.

The Sooke Athletics Club, the sponsors of these games, held its annual meeting recently, and the following officers were elected: president, G. Jones; vice-president, Mr. Pontious; secretary-treasurer, Florence Gray; executive committee, A. Kirby, Mrs. Kirby, Mrs. Gray, Mrs. Charters, Mrs. B. Cairns and F. Dore.

Sooke will treat out many of their old regulars when they stack up against The Times, including Bert Acreman, Stan Giles, G. McIntosh and Tom Little. They will take the same team that has done so well in local Senior "C" circles, with Alf Foubister and Ken Webster the leading lights. The remainder of the team will be composed of Mitchell, Fish, Paulson and Taylor. The teams will be entertained with a dance at the conclusion of the game.

Brumeux Winner Of Delamere Handicap At English Track

Manchester, Eng., Nov. 20.—A. J. Macomber's Brumeux won the Delamere handicap plate to-day at odds of 4 to 5; he finished the two-mile course fifteen lengths ahead of the field.

Sir Hugo Hirt's Coaster was second and Sir Wilfrid Peck's Prohibitionist third. Only three horses ran. The race is worth £500 ($2,500).

Tommy Loughran Is Confident Of Beating Levinsky

Chicago, Nov. 20.—Tommy Loughran, former light-heavyweight champion of the world, is confident that he will beat King Levinsky so decisively in their ten-round engagement in the Chicago Stadium to-morrow night that there will be no chance of an unjust verdict.

The Philadelphia boxer finished hard training yesterday, boxing three spirited rounds. He probably will enter the ring weighing around 185 pounds, with Levinsky scaling 185.

Junior Soccer

Junior League football matches scheduled for Saturday follow: Victoria City vs. Royal Oak at Beacon Hill.

Oaklands vs. Esquimalt at Spence's Park.

Y.M.C.A. vs. James Island at James Island.

Monthly Medal Competition At Uplands Sunday

A men's monthly medal competition will be held at the Uplands Golf Club on Sunday. It will be an eight play against par and opponents will choose their own partners and arrange their own starting times. Post entries will be received. Two prizes will be awarded.

Five C's Will Oppose Saanich Buds on Saturday

Ted Thye Wins Over Ed. Wirth

Portland, Nov. 20.—Ted Thye, Portland, defeated Ed. Wirth, Detroit, two straight falls, in a wrestling match here yesterday evening. Thye weighed 198 pounds, and Wirth 185. Thye won the first fall in twenty-seven minutes and the second in three minutes, both with wristlocks.

Young Stribling Scores Knockout

Grand Rapids, Mich., Nov. 20.—W. L. "Young" Stribling, Macon heavyweight, knocked out Whitley Corliss of Brown City, Mich., in the third round of a scheduled ten-round bout here yesterday evening.

BODIES OF THREE FLIERS FOUND

Burbank, Cal., Nov. 20.—Plunged nose first into a gently sloping plateau in the Tehachapi Mountain foothills, a Pacific Air Transport night-mail plane was found yesterday afternoon, its three passengers dead.

Discovery of the wreckage ended a forty-three-hour search. The wreckage had not burned. The plane, piloted by F. A. Donaldson, and carrying Miss Jean Markow, eighteen, of Los Angeles, and George Rogers, its mechanic, left the United Airport here Monday midnight and became lost in fog, snow and a gale on Friday, eighty miles north of the end of the fabled flight came approximately halfway between Tejon and Antelope Valley emergency airports, the former in the Tehachapi range and the latter on the flat at the edge of the Mojave Desert.

The mail, totalling 319 pounds, the plane was carrying to Oakland and Portland, was found intact.

TWO INJURED

Port Angeles, Nov. 20.—Two men were slightly injured in a fire here yesterday that destroyed a two-story frame building occupied by the City Furniture Company and Alaska Hotel. Owners of the building estimated the loss at between $15,000 and $20,000, covered by insurance.

Announcements

DEED
 BOWNESS—On November 18 there passed away William Bowness at his late residence, 24 Douglas Street, aged eighty-three years, born in England and residing in Victoria for the last forty-five years.

The remains are resting at Haywards' B.C. Funeral Chapel, from where the funeral will take place on Friday afternoon, November 21, at 3:30. Interment will be made in Royal Oak Burial Park.

CARD OF THANKS

Mr. and Mrs. T. J. Lidstone and family of 1203 Bay Street, wish to thank the many friends for their wonderful kindness and sympathy, also for the beautiful floral tributes, during their recent and betwyment in the loss of a loving son and brother.

MANY DIVORCES IN ONTARIO

Total of Fifty-one Writs Filed Since Divorce Court Started in May

Toronto, Nov. 20.—Since Ontario's courts were clothed on May 30 last with power to grant divorces, fifty-one writs have been filed at Osbourne Hall here asking for dissolutions of marriage.

Of the plaintiffs, twenty-one are women. In some of the petitions filed by women, adultery alone is cited as the ground upon which divorce is asked, therefore when these cases come to trial, the issue of the "double standard" may be fought out. When the issue is actually raised in litigation as to the necessity under Ontario's new law for a woman to plead cruelty as well as adultery, the judges will determine it.

Happy Valley

The Happy Valley Bridge Club had their fourth meeting, on Monday evening at the home of Mrs. M. Brown. There were four tables of bridge and the members enjoyed a very pleasant evening.

Refreshments were served by the hostess. The next meeting will be at the home of Mrs. W. T. Clark on Tuesday, November 25.

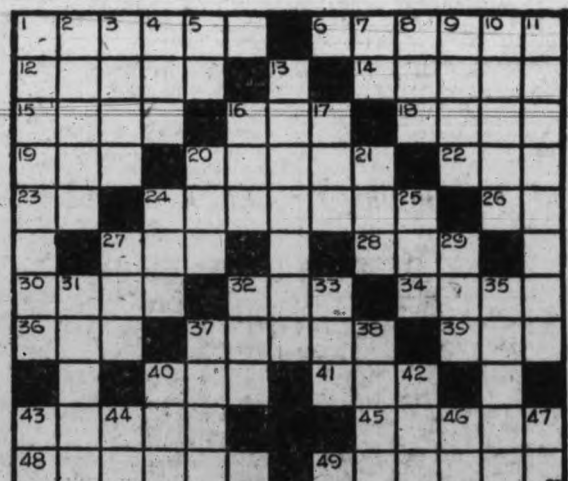

Mrs. E. Banner of Victoria has been visiting Mrs. Trace of Luxton prior to leaving for California on a visit to her daughters.

Ernest Weber is a patient in St. Joseph's Hospital.

Norman Nurse, six-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Nurse is progressing favorably after an operation.

To Hold Bazaar.—The ladies of Court Maple Leaf A.O.F. met at the home of Mrs. R. W. Nunn, 722 Queen's Avenue, on Tuesday evening and made final arrangement for the annual bazaar they will hold in the old Royal Bank of Canada Building, Douglas Street on Saturday. The stalls will include fancywork, plain sewing, novelties, baby clothes, home-cooking and spinning jenny. Mrs. Jackson will be in charge of the afternoon teas and light lunches. There will also be tea-cup reading. Members are asked to bring donations on Friday afternoon or early Saturday.

Excess of Sugar in His Foods Makes Baby Pale and Flabby

Infant Will Live on One-twentieth Ounce of Carbohydrate Per Pound of Weight.

By DR. MORRIS FISHBEIN

The second main type of food constituent is the carbohydrate of sugar. It has been estimated, as cited by Dr. W. M. Marriott, that the minimum amount of carbohydrate on which a young infant will live for any length of time is about one-twentieth of an ounce for each pound of its weight.

The best amount of carbohydrate is about from one-tenth to one-fifth of an ounce for each pound of the child's weight, or approximately one-hundredth of its total weight. A child that is fed on its mother's milk needs about one-fifth of an ounce for each pound of its weight each day.

If a grown person is given too much carbohydrate, he promptly develops the appearance of sugar in his excretions. Because the needs of the child are so much greater, it can be fed proportionately a larger amount of carbohydrate than can an adult.

Sugars are not all the same as ordinary cane sugar. They vary in their forms so that it becomes important to know which of the sugars is best used by the body for energy purposes. The human body has a very exact regulating system for handling sugar. Whatever is needed for energy is burned in the tissues. The remainder is stored in the liver and in the muscles or else changed into fat. During starvation the material stored up in the liver and in the muscles is reconverted into the form which can be used for energy, taken up by the blood, and used as food.

If starvation continues, some of the proteins will be converted into sugar to keep the level of the sugar in the blood from falling too low. If the level of the sugar falls too low, the human being becomes unconscious and may show the symptoms of intoxication. When insulin is given, sugar is converted rapidly into fat, and a system had been developed for increasing the weight of the body rapidly by giving sugar and insulin at the same time.

If the person needs energy, sugar may be given. Thus it was suggested that marathon runners be given lime drops or other forms of sugar to help them undergo the loss that takes place during excess activity. However, sugar cannot replace proteins in the diet. A certain amount of sugar can be derived from proteins in times of stress, but the complex proteins cannot be created in any way from sugars.

If a child is fed a diet that has too much sugar and which is deficient in proteins, fats and minerals, it will increase in weight rapidly due to the fact that a lot of water is retained in the body. An infant that is fed an excess amount of sugar is pale and flabby, actually waterlogged, and is not capable of activity, not of resisting infection.

Infants that have been overfed on sweetened condensed milk or on malted milk and which have not received a proper amount of the other necessary food substances may appear fat and chubby, but will at the same time not be properly adapted to undergo the vicissitudes of infection nor the activities of life.

Canada and Indian Affairs

In Canada the first and most important idea underlying the administration of Indian Affairs is protection; that is, to protect a dependent race in its lands, money, and its contact with the community. The Magna Charta of the Canadian Indians is the Proclamation of 1763, which set forth that no Indian could be dispossessed of his lands without his consent and the consent of the Crown. The reason of Canada's success in the management of Indians is based on that broad principle.

BESSIE LOVE IN "GOOD NEWS" NOW
AT THE DOMINION

There are no tears to be shed for Bessie Love in "Good News," Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer's triumph of musical comedy transition, which opened to-day at the Dominion Theatre for a two-day showing.

As far as we can remember, Bessie has always had to cry in her pictures. But here she is, gay and exuberant as a grasshopper—and just as lively.

The picturization of the famous musical success walks right away from the original stage production. It is screened upon a lavish scale. With Bessie heading the cast, there are featured such players as Stanley Smith, Mary Lawlor, Gus Shy, Lola Lane, Dorothy McElroy, Billy Taft, Cliff (Ukulele Ike), Edwards, Frank McGlynn and Tom Jackson.

From its very opening reel in which the entire student body is seen prancing in the college gymnasium, the picture is characterized by fast action and youthful buoyancy.

SOUTH SEA SETTING
FOR CAPITOL FILM
STARRING R. ARLEN

Battle canoes which a few years ago swarmed out of remote bays in the South Sea Islands, filled with warriors seeking heads and the bodies of enemies to eat, are again making martial voyages.

Manned by native crews in full regalia, eleven of these fantastic, shell-decorated craft took part in the filming of Paramount's new talking picture, "The Sea God." This production, featuring Richard Arlen, Fay Wray and Eugene Palette, and filmed partly on an island in the Pacific, opens a three days' engagement to-day at the Capitol Theatre.

The war canoes are from thirty to fifty feet long and have a capacity of twenty to seventy-five warriors.

FORMER RUSSIAN
DANCER OF BALLET
AT THE PLAYHOUSE

Jean De Vore, who enacts a comedy role in "Around the Corner," the George Sidney-Charlie Murray production now playing at the Playhouse Theatre, was once an internationally known dancer. He was with the Russian ballet at the age of nine. In this country he was for three years a member of the Chicago Opera Company and a popular performer in New York cabarets.

EDNA BEST WILL PLAY OPPOSITE
COLISEUM STAR

"Loose Ends," the great British production starring Owen Nares, is coming to the Coliseum Theatre Saturday.

The role of Malcolm Forbes affords an excellent opportunity for a characterization of rare dramatic intensity, an opportunity of which Owen Nares avails himself to the utmost.

Edna Best, who is seen with Owen Nares in "Loose Ends," first acted in the talkies with the incomparable actor, Seymour Hicks. On the stage she recently had an enormous success with her husband, Herbert Marshall, as "Michael and Mary."

HOOT GIBSON HAS
WESTERN ROLE IN COLUMBIA FEATURE

Hoot Gibson again lives up to his reputation of "The Flying Cowboy" in his latest Universal action comedy, "Trailin' Trouble," now showing at the Columbia Theatre.

Although a licensed pilot, Hoot keeps away from the controls in this picture, in order to go in for an even riskier piece of business. He becomes a stow-away in an airplane, and drops off for a parachute jump. In order to make the business end of the picture, he does the jump with a small dog snuggled inside of his shirt.

RONALD COLEMAN,
NOW AT COLISEUM,
VERSATILE ACTOR

A gypsy prince, a soldier of the Foreign Legion, a Flemish nobleman, a freebooting trader in the South Seas and now at last an Englishman in England—these are the high spots of Ronald Colman's career in pictures which culminates in "Bulldog Drummond," the comedy melodrama now showing at the Coliseum Theatre.

He has played English roles before, but never one which was reproduced in his own life as exactly as that of the hero of "Bulldog Drummond" who finds himself bored with the life of a demobilized English officer.

Coal Conference
Held in London

London, Nov. 20.—Miners' delegates from all the coal fields of Britain met to-day in London at the call of the Miners' Federation to discuss matters of vital importance to the coal industry.

The principal subject for their consideration was the report from various mining districts on owners' proposals of a new agreement involving wage cuts in some cases to be effected through a reduction in work hours from eight to seven and a half hours a day.

There was said to be no militant spirit among the delegates and federation officials expressed hope for a peaceful solution of problems, although they emphasized the question of a wage reduction would not be entertained.

McLeod Players Present "The Bride" For Remainder of Week

Unusual Situations Create
Thrilling Detective Play

When an alluring and charming woman suddenly takes up her abode in the home of two bachelors whose chief enjoyments are jelly-fish, spiders and jewels, something is bound to happen. The ensuing events are of a surprising and extraordinarily entertaining nature in the play, "The Bride" which opened a four-day run by the McLeod Players at the Royal Victoria Theatre yesterday.

The ability of this group of players, under the direction of Gordon McLeod, in this type of mystery play, are highly emphasized by the performance, which has a fast-moving plot and keeps the audience in doubt until the closing moment. Mr. McLeod makes his first appearance in the current season and fully justifies the reputation he has built up for character roles.

TWO BACHELORS AND THEIR AUNT

Cited by enthusiastic houses yesterday afternoon and evening, the play is a splendid attraction. It deals primarily with the two Travers brothers, who live in a palatial mansion in New York city. Mr. Travers, the elder brother, Mortimer, who Patrick Ludlow appears as the younger, Wilson, Henrietta Travers, a maiden aunt whose major efforts are towards match-making for the men, is played by Ely Malton, who shows exceptional talent.

When Marie Duquesne, played by Miss Lillian Christie with her usual charm, appears "from the roof-top" into the midst of this staid household scene, she comes thick and fast. Two shocked, but perhaps slightly pleased, bachelors watch her disrobe before them, borrow pyjamas and dressing gown and retire for the night.

ROBBERIES AND SUSPECTS

A diamond necklace and a set of rubies are stolen in the plot, as well as a police inspector, played by Robert Adair, a policeman, taken by George Durham, and the butler James, played by Ber Devlin, Hugh Symington and Wylie Watson, take minor parts.

To tell the plot would be to spoil the play. It will be sufficient to say that there are two robberies and plenty of suspects, most of whom are, of course, eliminated at the last moment. Only five of the nine characters are what they seem.

GRAIN JUDGING

SCHOLARSHIPS

ARE ARRANGED

Toronto, Nov. 20.—Scholarships valued at from $500 up to $700 were decided on as prizes to the five students standing highest in the junior grain judging competition to be held in connection with the World Grain Exhibition and Conference at Regina in 1932, at a meeting here yesterday of the boys' and girls' judging competition committee held under the chairmanship of C. N. Hamilton.

Originally it was intended to offer a trophy valued at $2,500 to the team victorious in the inter-collegiate section of these competitions securing highest standing.

While it is still proposed to offer a trophy in this section, it is intended to offer as awards to students securing highest places scholarships for post-graduate work in the value of $300, $200, $100, $50 and $25.

Every province of Canada is now represented on this boys' and girls' grain judging competition committee. At the meeting yesterday the personnel of the committee was enlarged to include the Deputy Minister of each province in addition to the officials who, in each province, have charge of boys' and girls' club work or extension departments.

The committee concluded its work. It will make a report to the executive and finance committee of the World Grain Exhibition and Conference.

Farmers Seek
100% Pool

Regina, Nov. 20.—The main subject of discussion to-day at the annual meeting of Saskatchewan Wheat Pool delegates was the 100 per cent pool by legislation.

The delegates entered into a full discussion of certain provisions which in their opinion should be incorporated in the proposed Grain Marketing Act. It was the decision of the meeting to leave discretionary powers with the board in their negotiations with the government in this regard.

It was decided further that an educational policy should be evolved with the object of gaining the greatest possible support of the farmers of Saskatchewan in favor of the proposed 100 per cent pool.

BIG LANDSLIDE
MENACES VILLAGE

Glarus, Switzerland, Nov. 20.—The village of Linthal, near here, has become greatly alarmed at a gradual movement of land on the side of the mountain, which has shown an increasing instability for more than a year.

A gradual landslide, at first very slow, has doubled its speed until now it is estimated 100,000 cubic metres of earth are moving down on the village at the rate of one centimetre (about the thickness of a paper) every day.

Water with telephones have been stationed at different points on the mountain, and measures have been taken to hasten the evacuation of the village as soon as necessary.

Five-cent Loaf

By KEN CLARK
Canadian Press Staff Correspondent
Washington, Nov. 20.—In dealing with the wheat surplus in the United States, the economic experts of Washington have advocated the lowering of the price of bread the people of the United States may be induced to eat more wheat flour. Cultural authorities are now advertising a five-cent loaf of bread.

SEVERAL LOSE

LIVES IN FIRE

IN MEXICO

Cordoba, Vera Cruz, Nov. 20.—Several persons were killed and a number injured yesterday in a fire which almost wiped out the village of Parajo Nuevo, eight miles from here. The fire was caused by sparks from a passing locomotive, the blaze rapidly devouring a major part of the town, which consisted principally of wooden buildings.

Alberta Boys Are

New Cattle And

Swine Champions

Toronto, Nov. 20.—Western Canada attendants at the Royal Winter Fair here were jubilant to-day over the fact that the prairie provinces yesterday made a pretty clear sweep of the Canadian championship contest in juvenile livestock club contests conducted here annually by the Canadian National Railway in co-operation with Federal and provincial agricultural authorities. Alberta won both Dominion-wide championships in the swine club and cattle club contests of the Canadian National Railway against teams from all the other provinces. The new Canadian Swine Club champions are Robert Wylie and W. E. Schmidt from Vegreville, Alta., and the new Canadian Cattle Club kings are two boys from Camrose, Alta., Vernon and Borden McNeigh, brothers. In addition to these wins by Alberta, the three first places in the swine club contests were taken by Alberta: Saskatchewan and Manitoba, respectively, with the scoring of 660.663 and 654, indicating how close the contest was. This other teams were from New Brunswick, Nova Scotia and British Columbia in order of markings. This is the seventh year the prairies have won the Canadian juvenile swine club contest of the Canadian National Railway, and it is the second time in eight years Alberta has won the championship. The cattle club contests have been going for only three years, and this is the first year Alberta had a team entered.

TO-DAY'S GRAIN MARKETS

Winnipeg, Nov. 20.—Wheat—Market opened steady with prices declining fractionally during the first period, but around mid session the market turned decidedly strong with prices climbing to 2 3/4 to 3 1/2 over the last closed. The cash month being the weakest and the July the strongest of the four contract months.

The upturn was brought about by some good buying that was credited to Chicago and New York interests, and was understood to be mostly on spreads, there being no evidence of export buying overnight beyond an odd lot here and there. However, this outside buying, combined with a little short covering, was sufficient to take the slack out of the market, and while there were recessions from the full upturn, the market held very firm.

Another bullish item to-day was a report issued by the ministry of agriculture in Argentina, stating that because of rust two million tons of wheat had been lost on this crop.

A dispatch from Ottawa to The Winnipeg Tribune was to the effect that reorganization of the central selling agency of the wheat pool is a development expected within the next week or so, and Premier Brownlee will take charge. It was also stated that details of the reorganization were agreed upon by the western premiers and approved by the Dominion Government.

It is probable reorganization will involve liquidation proceedings on part of the Central Selling Agency as distinct from the three prairie pools. The western provinces are reported to be involved to the extent of around 600,000,000 more, Saskatchewan carrying the largest part of the loss, and the government of that province is expected in order to proceed with a step in and operate the pool elevators for the benefit of the farmers until the situation becomes straightened out. Black Sea shipments of wheat are again very large, being 6,864,000 bushels of wheat, mostly from Russia. Cash market was rather quiet to-day with spreads about unchanged. Winnipeg futures closed 1 1/4 to 1 3/4 higher.

WHITNEY LETTER

New York, Nov. 20.—Whitney of Wall Street Financial Bureau says:

RENEWED ADVANCE

INAUGURATED

"Yesterday's market was sufficiently strong to absorb both the poor cash leading report and the unexpected announcement during the morning of the settlement of an important brokerage firm, besides which it got no encouragement from trade quarters, which had nothing to offer in the form of bullish news during the day. I believe the whole performance simply spells the completion of what secondary reaction the market had coming to it, and that it will continue to acquire sufficient momentum on the upside to absorb whatever adverse news developments present themselves from now on.

"There is considerable opinion in the Street that a real rally cannot get into motion with so many unfavorable situations overhanging it. The form that these are supposed to take covers almost everything imaginable, both here and abroad, but think the way to treat them is simply to consider that their coming to light represents what the market has been going down almost ten weeks on, and not what it is going to reflect now. The wheat situation pointed out here yesterday is by no means cleared up, but believe that if we are to have any trouble from that quarter it will come at a time when the market is sufficiently well established in an up-trend and likewise well enough advanced from its low points to stand it without damaging anything. In other words, believe any normal half-day setback now becomes a buying point in a market which is going considerably higher, and which in its rise should finish up the week with 1930.

Dorothy Dix's Letter Box

Why the Business Man Makes the Best Husband—Is It Fair for a Wife to Take a Vacation By Herself?—How Long Does Courtship Last?

DEAR MISS DIX—I am in love with a business man, but my aunt advises me not to marry him, because she says business men do not make good husbands. She says that they all have for secretaries young and pretty girls with whom they flirt and to whom they complain of their wives, and who try to take them away from their wives. Do you think this is true and that I will be risking my happiness to marry a business man?

WORRIED SICK.

Answer: I never heard such nonsense in my life. Look around you and see the reputation of your aunt's theory in the hundreds and thousands of men going to work every morning and coming home every night so regularly you could set your watch by their movements, and whose chief interests in life are their homes and their wives and their children. They are business men who work like dray horses to give their wives nice homes and pretty good clothes and cars, and send their children to school and give them advantages they never had. Wild parties and vamps and illicit love affairs are as foreign to them as if they existed in Mars.

Why, the business man makes the best husband in the world because he is seldom temperamental, he has learned how to control his temper and get along with people through dealing with customers, and he is used to striking a balance between what he would like to have and what he gets, so he doesn't expect too much of his wife, and sets her little faults and weaknesses over against her virtues and charges it off to profit and loss.

As for the danger that a wife runs from her husband's secretary, nothing is more exaggerated. To begin with, a business office is not a love nest, and in these days of fierce competition during business hours a man is not chasing skirts, he is chasing the dollar. Ninety-nine business men out of a hundred never even think of their secretaries as women. They look upon them solely as part of the office equipment and are much more interested in their accuracy and ability to spell than they are in what color eyes they have.

Of course, there are some few philanderers who make love to their secretaries and tell them that they are not understood at home and that their wives do not appreciate them, but that type of man would never be true to his wife under any circumstances. He would always find some woman to flirt with. The world is full of good-looking girls and there is no way to keep a husband with a roving eye from seeing them.

Still, and all, a man's occupation does have some effect on his desirability as a husband, which perhaps it is well for a woman to consider. A curious woman, for instance, should never marry a lawyer, because he is bound to have secrets from her and she will torment herself to death trying to worm them out of him.

A jealous woman should never marry a doctor, because much of his prosperity will depend upon his holding the hands of neurotic ladies in pink negligees who imagine themselves sick and pick out their physicians by their looks rather than by their medical knowledge. A green-eyed woman can eat her own heart out and ruin her husband's practice by imagining things about his lady patients.

A plain-spoken woman should never marry a preacher, because no men are so run after and flattered by women as clergymen, and to hold her own she has to make her home brew sweeter and stronger and more ready than that concocted by the ladies of the congregation.

No woman who wants a quiet home life and to be sure that she is IT with her husband should marry a traveling man or a politician or an army or a navy officer, because such men always belong to the public more than they do to their wives and their homes are mostly places where they come to rest up and have their laundry done.

So, by and large, the business man makes the best husband.

DOROTHY DIX.

DEAR MISS DIX—Do you think it unfair for a wife to take a vacation without her husband? I have numerous opportunities to take trips where it would cost me very little, but I do not know whether it is right for me to go without my husband or not. I do all of my own work, even washing the clothes on a washboard, because my husband does not think that an electric machine is necessary. I am not strong and many nights I cannot sleep because I am too tired.

A WONDERING WIFE.

Answer: I think it is a life saver for husbands and wives to take little vacations away from each other, because no two people can be together all of the time without getting on each other's nerves.

Especially is it desirable that a woman like yourself, who is not strong and husky, should have as many little trips as she can get. Because there is no tonic like change, nothing that soothes and rests one like seeing new places and new people. Women who are not robust physically and who are overworked at home, as you certainly are if you have to do your own housework without modern equipment, are sure to get fretful and peevish and irritable, and they are far easier to live with after they have come home from a little visit than they were before they went away.

Women are often criticized for leaving their husbands to go off to Europe or California or to a winter or a summer resort, but the truth of the matter is that in the great majority of cases it gives the husband just as much of a vacation as it does the wife. He can't leave his business, but when the wife is away the cat can play and he can vary his daily routine by going to restaurants or going out with his men friends and going to bed when he likes and indulging a thousand personal little tastes that he cannot do when his wife is at home.

And then when the wife's vacation is over they are both glad to go back to the old routine and they are better companions and more fond of each other because of the little change.

DOROTHY DIX.

DEAR MISS DIX—Does courtship really end at the altar or does it last a lifetime?

A. X.

Answer: Courtship ends at the altar because the man and woman have won each other. You don't chase a street car after you have caught it.

But real love and the desire to please each other never ends. It lasts a lifetime.

FARMERS DEBATE GRAIN AND NEW PORT PROJECT

Manitoba Convention Favors Free British Trade Through Churchill

Canadian Press

Portage la Prairie, Man., Nov. 20.—To-day the United Farmers of Manitoba moved into the second half of a four-day convention that ranks with the most important in the history of the organization. The economic crisis on the prairies, aggravated by rock-bottom grain prices, lends weight to the decisions of the conference. Two prominent developments since the opening of the sessions were not listed on the programme yesterday. Premier John Bracken of Manitoba wired from Montreal that prospects were "far from bright" for a satisfactory wheat price guarantee by the Federal Government, and Hon. R. A. Hoey, Acting Premier, offered the suggestion that Churchill, new Hudson Bay harbor of the prairies, should be made a free port of entry for British goods.

The one report cast a shadow of gloom over the delegates, who had been hoping for news the Federal Government would come to the support of the sagging wheat market. Only a few hours before the convention had opened, the approval of the efforts of the prairie farmers and the government to devise some method of relieving conditions on the prairies.

The proposal of Mr. Hoey brought to the delegates a hope of early benefit from the $40,000,000 project that has run a line of steel to the new settlement on the Hudson Bay shore. Before the present convention, said President Thomas Wood, a resolution would be brought, expressing approval of Mr. Hoey's proposal that all goods of British origin, manufactured and produced in Great Britain, should enter Canada by Hudson Bay free of duty. "I am sure the resolution will be given enthusiastic support," said Mr. Wood. Only one of more than half a hundred resolutions had been disposed of by the meeting yesterday. That, however, was one of the outstanding motions on the agenda, marshalling the Manitoba body to the side of Alberta and Saskatchewan farm organizations in definite support of the three prairie Premiers, endeavor to seek a remedy for the prairie ills.

NO STAND ON "PEGGED" PRICES

Though Saskatchewan and Alberta farmers had requested a government fixed price for wheat—$1 and $1.15 a bushel, respectively—Manitoba took no stand on "pegged" prices. It was decided, however, to send a delegation to the inter-provincial farmer conference at Saskatoon next week, where price fixing and 100 per cent pooling will be talked over.

The 100 per cent pool question has yet to come before the delegates. It is looked on as highly important in view of the fact that Saskatchewan Pool farmers have already balloted in favor of the "perfect pool," and Manitoba Pool members plan to vote on the question at some future date. Alberta farmers have taken no stand of late on the question.

OFFERS WAY TO IMPROVE BEEF

R. H. Helmer Tells Advisory Board Bull Supervision Necessary

The importance of the cattle industry to British Columbia was presented to the Advisory Board of Farmers' Institutes this morning at the Parliament Buildings by R. H. Helmer, Nicola. To improve the quality of cattle on open range Mr. Helmer advocated legislation excluding all bulls except of specified breeds in certain defined areas of public range.

At yesterday afternoon's proceedings J. Travis, provincial agriculturist in the Peace River District, gave a review of the needs of that area, telling of the difficulties in providing farmers with a domestic water supply. R. Blackburn, Nechako Valley, cited similar problems in his area and urged the government be asked to provide machinery and operators for drilling wells, the settlers to pay the wages involved.

A resolution asking test wells at the sole cost of the government was deferred for amendment by a committee composed of Messrs Travers, Blackburn, and C. J. Miller of Bulkley Valley.

WEED CONTROL. The Advisory Board will ask the agricultural experts of the Provincial Government to draft a programme of weed control which can be carried out with a somewhat higher provincial grant.

E. W. Neel, Duncan, doubted the efficiency of any weed campaign other than the united effort of all farmers supplemented by rigid municipal enforcement of the Noxious Weeds Act. Charles A. Hope, Port Langley, urged attention to problems of immigration, especially of Orientals. The meeting passed a resolution supporting strict enforcement of immigration laws pending discussion of immigration by the Imperial Economic Conference at Ottawa. The matter will also be referred to the agricultural committee of the Legislature.

B.C.'S FUTURE BRIGHT STATES LT.-GOVERNOR

Vancouver, Nov. 20.—Striking a keynote of confidence in the future of British Columbia, Lieutenant-Governor Bruce voiced the belief here yesterday evening that the adversity of business depression, now evident throughout the world, would prove a blessing in disguise. He was addressing, as guest of honor, the annual meeting of the Vancouver Publicity Bureau.

"Adversity," declared the Lieutenant-Governor, "brings out the strength of nations, just as it does the strength of men. Wealth breeds indolence and love of ease, which are not typical of the best type of man. And so I think this depression from which we are suffering is a good thing. May I say I have no doubt of the future of this city with such men directing its destinies as I see gathered here to-night."

"I find it hard to realize," said Mr. Bruce, "as I travel through British Columbia, that there is a depression in trade. I have seen the wonderful hydro-electric plant at Ruskin, and at Trail I saw 1,200 men at work constructing a huge new fertilizer plant. It renews one's faith in these such projects under way at a time when there is a depression."

His Honor was accorded an ovation at the conclusion of his speech. Directors elected to guide the destinies of the Publicity Bureau during the ensuing year included O. B. Allan, Harold Darling, Brenton S. Brown, T. H. Kirk, M.P.P., E. H. Adams, Fred Crone, Oscar W. Pearson and Dr. G. H. Worthington. W. J. Blake Wilson was appointed honorary president, and Hon. W. C. Shelly honorary vice-president for the next year.

ASK REPORT ON CARE OF GRAVES AT VLADIVOSTOK

Canadian Members of Imperial War Graves Commission Request Information

Ottawa, Nov. 20.—The graves of fourteen Canadian soldiers in the Russian naval cemetery at Churkin, on the outskirts of Vladivostok, Siberia, are engaging the attention of the Canadian section of the Imperial War Graves Commission. Col. H. C. Osborne, director-in-charge of that organization, has sent a message to London requesting information on the subject. While machinery for the preservation of the graves and the memorial which was erected in the cemetery has been continued for many years, its direction has been moribund and circuitous in view of Canada's relations with Soviet Russia, and particularly since Great Britain severed and subsequently resumed diplomatic relations with the Union of Soviet Socialist Republics.

During the period when there was no direct diplomatic contact between the United Kingdom and the Soviet, British affairs were handled by the Norwegian Legation at Moscow. Questions of accounting in connection with expenditures on the graves of the Canadians at Vladivostok presented some difficulties, while the engaging of a caretaker was also a problem. At present the cemetery is being looked after by Mrs. O. O. Sergeev, a Russian woman of Vladivostok, at a salary of ten yen (the equivalent of $5) a month. This woman voluntarily undertook the duty when the previous caretaker, a Siberian named Zabusovetsky, abandoned his task early in 1923. Mrs. Sergeev rendered her accounts to the Norwegian Legation at Moscow, and these were duly paid, the Canadians being billed for and liquidating the charges.

The bodies of the fourteen Canadians were buried in the British section of the Russian naval cemetery at Churkin on a hillside overlooking the city. Alongside the British section is the Czechoslovakian section.

As long as the British mission remained in Siberia the cemetery was well cared for, but after the abandonment in 1927 many administrative difficulties arose. The British vice-consul, G. P. Paton, who had handled all communication on behalf of the Canadians, was also withdrawn. The appointment of another consular officer would greatly facilitate matters.

The majority of the Canadians who died were infantrymen of the 259th and 260th Battalions.

Simple Remedy For Bad Stomach Gives Swift Relief

No Need of Strong Medicines or Diet Safe and Simple Home Recipe Keeps Stomach in Fine Condition

If you are a victim of Stomach Troubles—Gas, Sourness, Pain or Bloating—you may have quick and certain relief by following this simple advice.

Don't take strong medicines, artificial digestants or pull down your system with starvation diets. For within reason most folks may eat what they like if they will keep their stomach free from souring acids that hinder or paralyze the work of digestion.

And the best and easiest way to do this is to follow every meal with three or four tablets of Bismarck's Magnesia—a pleasant, harmless, inexpensive, and handy tablet form of Magnesia that promptly neutralizes acidity and keeps your stomach sweet and clean.

A week's trial of Bismarck's Magnesia Tablets will show you just how good and safe this remedy is. It is absolutely unnecessary. Be sure to get Bismarck's Magnesia Tablets! (Advt.)

BROOKMIRE SEES DEPRESSION NEAR END OF COURSE

That the decline in the business cycle has about run its course is the belief of The Brookmire Economic Service. In Forecaster they say: "It seems probable that the declining cycle of business has about run its course. The fragmentary statistics for October which are now coming to hand indicate that basic industries got down to a level which may be considered close to minimum and which, if continued for a few months, will bring the needed correction. We still adhere to our belief that the spring of 1931 will see a cycle recovery under way."

East thru a land that knows no winter

If in search of extra pleasures on your trip east this winter, go Southern Pacific. Here is a route that follows the sunshine thru California, the Spanish American Southwest and the romantic Old South.

Stopover wherever you please as you visit San Francisco, Los Angeles, Hollywood, El Paso (Juarez), San Antonio, New Orleans. From New Orleans by rail to your mid-west or eastern destination; or better still, enjoy 100 Golden Hours at sea on a luxurious steamer from New Orleans to New York. (Meals and berth on steamer included in regular fare.)

It may surprise you to know that the fare to many eastern cities is no more than via other routes. To other cities the cost is only a fraction more. But in no other way can you get so much for your travel dollar.

Your local agent will be glad to supply complete information.
